High-Altitude Nuclear Test Due Tonight

Explosion Set for 5-Hour Period Above Johnston Island

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States plans a high-altitude nuclear test above Johnston Island tonight but it won't pack the power of the one Tuesday which triggered earthquake-like shocks in Hawaii.

The submergence device, with a punch equivalent to between 20,000 and a million tons of TNT, is scheduled for a five-hour period beginning at 9:30 p.m. Hawaii time. The test originally was set for Tuesday night but was moved back because of technical difficulties.

Soviets Set Off Blast
The scheduled shot comes on the heels of an announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington that the Soviet Union set off a nuclear blast Tuesday in the same intermediate power range. The Soviet detonation was the 26th reported from the current series at the Novaya Zemlya Island test station in the Arctic.

Joint Task Force 8 also announced a low-yield shot would be tried above Johnston on Saturday night. That is the test that was originally planned for Sunday but was pushed back to accommodate the submergence blast.

Shock waves rattled windows in Honolulu, 750 miles from the Johnston Island test site, and showed up on seismographs. An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman indicated the device, dropped from an airplane, was the most powerful at Johnston this year and might have been the biggest of 34 American nuclear tests in the Pacific. The program has been under way at Johnston and Christmas Islands since April 25.

4 New York Papers Offer Pay Increases

NEW YORK (AP)—Four of the seven strike-threatened major newspapers in the city offered wage increases to news and commercial employees Tuesday and early today.

Officials of the New York Newspaper Guild, a unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild, called the proposals inadequate and unacceptable.

Midnight tonight is the deadline set by the union for a strike against any or all of the seven newspapers.

The guild is seeking a number of benefits—such as increased job security—in addition to more money.

Menon Named Production Head; Exchange of Fire at Close Range Reported at Burma Border

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today took over the defense ministry from V. K. Krishna Menon. Menon was named minister of defense production.

A cabinet communique announced the change. It came in a rising tide of criticism of Menon for failing to prepare India's defenses adequately against Chinese Communist attack.

The announcement said President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan asked Nehru to take over the defense post.

In fact, Nehru has been handling the job for the past week, relegating Menon to the background.

The decision to replace Menon was taken at a cabinet meeting which outsiders thought must have been heated.

At one point, an information officer was called to handle an important announcement. But then he was sent away with the word that no announcement was coming tonight.

A short time later the cabinet decided to announce Menon's ouster from the key defense job.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said an exchange of fire at fairly close quarters occurred Tuesday near Walong, at the eastern end of the frontier near Burma. It lies in the Lohit River valley, the eastern route through the Himalayas for Red Chinese armies.

Shelling Continues
The spokesman indicated the Communists might be trying to outflank the Indians at Walong. In the only other fighting reported in the last 24 hours, the spokesman said Indian troops continued to shell the Chinese around Jang, five miles east of the captured monastery town of Towang on another route to the Assam plains.

The spokesman denied the Indian Turn to Page 12 Col. 6

Revolutionary Group Says It Will Ignore Any Truce With Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban revolutionaries made it clear today that despite U.N. acting secretary-General U. Thant's mission to Havana they mean war, yes, truce no.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council sent word to Thant that any deal he might make with Fidel Castro would not block armed action against the dictator.

The council, major anti-Castro alliance, declared it could not recognize a pact with the Cuban regime, with it called Soviet province.

Anti-Castro groups girded for war despite what appeared a cooling-off period during Thant's Cuba visit.

Thant Has 2nd Talk on Missiles

HAVANA (AP)—Acting Secretary-General U. Thant scheduled a second meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro today to try to win agreement for U.N. verification of Moscow's promises to remove its missiles from Cuba.

An initial two-hour, 10-minute session between Thant and the bearded Cuban leader made no headway Tuesday. Informants said, Castro reportedly stuck to such demands as abandonment by the United States of its Guantanamo naval base in southeastern Cuba.

The United States already has rejected Castro's demands, made last weekend. He also demanded lifting of all economic measures against his regime and guarantees against hit-run raids and invasion preparations.

Talks Called "Useful"
Despite the reported lack of progress, a spokesman for Thant called the meeting "very useful." A communique issued afterward said "Cuba fixed her position and viewpoints with clarity," which informants said meant Castro was unyielding in his demands.

President Osvaldo Dorticos took part in the meeting.

The U.S. naval blockade remained in suspension as Thant and Castro prepared for their second session. Thant asked that the blockade of offensive arms shipments to Cuba be lifted before he began his Havana discussions.

Harmony Thant's Goal
The United States also suspended its aerial surveillance of Cuba to ease the atmosphere for the Thant-Castro meeting.

Thant flew to Havana Tuesday to arrange for confirmation of the removal of the Soviet-installed missile bases under an agreement between Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy. He also is seeking to set up negotiations to resolve all aspects of the U.S.-Cuban dispute. He told Castro in a letter Sunday he hoped the discussions would result in respect for Cuban sovereignty and in reassurance for other countries, which have felt threatened by recent developments in Cuba.

Thant is scheduled to return late today to New York, and negotiations for removal of the missiles are expected to open as soon as he gets back.

The Soviet Union's negotiating team will be headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kulakov. President Kennedy's three-man team includes John J. McCloy, veteran diplomatic troubleshooter; Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric.

Naval Patrol Compacted in Cuban Region

Quarantine Ships Stay on Station but Suspend Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has pulled its Cuban blockade fleet into a more compact patrol area, it was learned today.

Exact boundaries of the new picket line were not disclosed, but they were reported well inside the original patrol section which started as much as 600 or 700 miles off Cuba, extending northeast toward Bermuda and eastward of the Virgin Islands.

The sea blockade was in suspension again today, but the quarantine fleet of carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines was still on station.

U. Thant, acting U.N. secretary-general, had asked that the U.S. blockade of offensive arms shipments to Cuba be lifted before he began discussions in Havana with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

2 Ships Intercepted
In announcing Monday night that the blockade would be suspended for two days beginning at dawn Tuesday, the White House did not say whether the quarantine would go back into effect after Thant leaves Havana.

Before the suspension, the Defense Department had announced interception of only two ships. The first was a Soviet tanker which was halted and then cleared to continue its voyage to Cuba. The second was a Soviet-chartered Lebanese ship. This one was boarded by parties from two destroyers, who inspected the ship's manifest and cargo and told it to go on.

The Defense Department doesn't deny that other ships, probably a number of them, have passed through the quarantine line.

One of these was a Swedish ship. Officially, the Defense Department and Navy have nothing to say about this incident. There Turn to Page 12 Col. 5

De Gaulle Will Retain Helm

Remains in Spite Of Unsatisfactory Margin in Election

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle announced today he will remain at the helm of the French government even though only about 47 per cent of France's registered voters backed him in a referendum last Sunday. He had a majority of those who did vote, however.

De Gaulle, anxious for a showdown with the nation's politicians, had said he would resign if the results of the referendum were "weak, mediocre or doubtful." But he did not specify the minimum vote that would keep him in office.

Amendment Approved

The referendum approved a constitutional amendment proposed by De Gaulle to provide for election of presidents by direct vote of the people. All of the nation's politicians except Gaullists contended he had violated the constitution by not presenting his amendment first to Parliament for approval.

In the vote, 61.76 per cent of the valid ballots were cast in favor of De Gaulle's proposal. Due to stay-at-home and other abstainers, the yes vote represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. De Gaulle's backing in previous referendums had never been less than 56 per cent of the electorate. De Gaulle presided today at a Cabinet meeting to review results of the referendum. Cabinet sources said he put emphasis on the 61.76 per cent approving vote.

Hodges Suggests Tax Slash Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges suggests the administration's plan for a 1963 tax cut be handled separately from tax reform lest the whole package be tied up in a congressional wrangle.

Hodges told a news conference Tuesday that tax reduction for corporations and individuals is the chief goal. He said it might be possible to write a temporary tax cut renewable after a year or two on condition Congress voted a reform then.

Renew Fond du Lac Death Investigation

Sheriff Will Pick Up Men for Questioning; No Warrants Issued

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
FOND DU LAC — Sheriff Leo J. Treleven decided shortly before noon today to re-open the LeRoy Sommers death case which has been the object of a running controversy since last May.

Sommers, 42, was president of the Full Cream Cheese Co., Maletown, (Fond du Lac County) and also had interests in other cheese operations. His widow has maintained he met with foul play and did not commit suicide as a coroner's inquest decided.

The badly burned body of Sommers was found May 22 in his partly burned car on the Mill Pond Road about seven miles southwest of here. Officials listed death as caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Dist. Atty. Donald Marcille requested the sheriff to re-open the case Tuesday and Treleven said that, "As far as I am concerned, the case is closed."

Marcille had announced the case would be re-opened on the basis of a statement by an ex-convict who said he knew who killed Sommers.

Pope Says Peace Hopes Growing

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII said today "peace is knocking at the door" of a world which is weary of anxiety. The pontiff made his remarks in addressing his Wednesday midday general audience.

"Peace," he told the gathering of Romans and tourists, "is knocking at the door and gives us hope that it can be achieved in its full splendor, because the world is weary of anxiety and uncertainties."

"When we see on the horizon this vision of peace we are happy and we thank God."

"One hears the voices of diplomats and of representatives of states which have different ideas and different behavior."

"But we hope all these will go ahead properly in the honest search of the real benefits in justice, propriety and brotherhood."

Showdown in Kremlin

Opposition for Khrushchev

BY PAUL GHALI
Chicago Daily News Service

PARIS — Here is the inside story of the showdown in the Kremlin that preceded the Soviet decision to pull its rockets out of Cuba.

It comes from diplomatic reports reaching Paris this morning.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's decision to accept the dismantling of the Cuba bases was taken against the loud opposition of Russia's Minister of Defense Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, according to the reports.

Tense Relations
Relations between Khrushchev and the Soviet army high command are described in Paris today as tense following a row that reportedly took place between Khrushchev and Malinovsky at a meeting of the Soviet Political Bureau in Moscow Friday evening.

According to reports, Khrushchev cited two reasons why it was urgently necessary to accept President Kennedy's terms.

1. He was convinced that President Kennedy meant business and that the only alternative to a possible nuclear war was to give in. He emphasized his point by saying that America's allies were fully behind President Kennedy.

To back his remarks, Khrushchev showed the members of the bureau the latest reports he had received from Soviet ambassadors in Washington, London and Paris.

2. Khrushchev stressed that he had proof that the Cuba blockade was only a first step toward a landing of American forces in Cuba in which case the Soviet Union would lose both its latest types of missiles and Fidel Castro's convenient communist regime.

Khrushchev emphasized that the decision to pull out of Cuba was a hard one to take but that the propaganda benefits that the Soviets would derive from it by being acclaimed as saviors of the peace would largely offset the disadvantages.

Kennedy's Messages
Khrushchev declared messages from President Kennedy also had influenced him to take this line of action.

Malinovsky pointed out in strong words that by giving up the Cuban outpost Khrushchev was upsetting the whole Soviet military offensive structure.

Malinovsky it appears had been planning to use Cuba's missiles as the supreme argument.

250-Pound Tank Dropped by Jet

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force reported today that a fighter-interceptor jet plane accidentally dropped an auxiliary fuel tank on a New Smyrna Beach street Tuesday.

The information office here said the plane was flying from Langley Air Force Base, Va., to Patrick when the 250-pound tank broke loose.

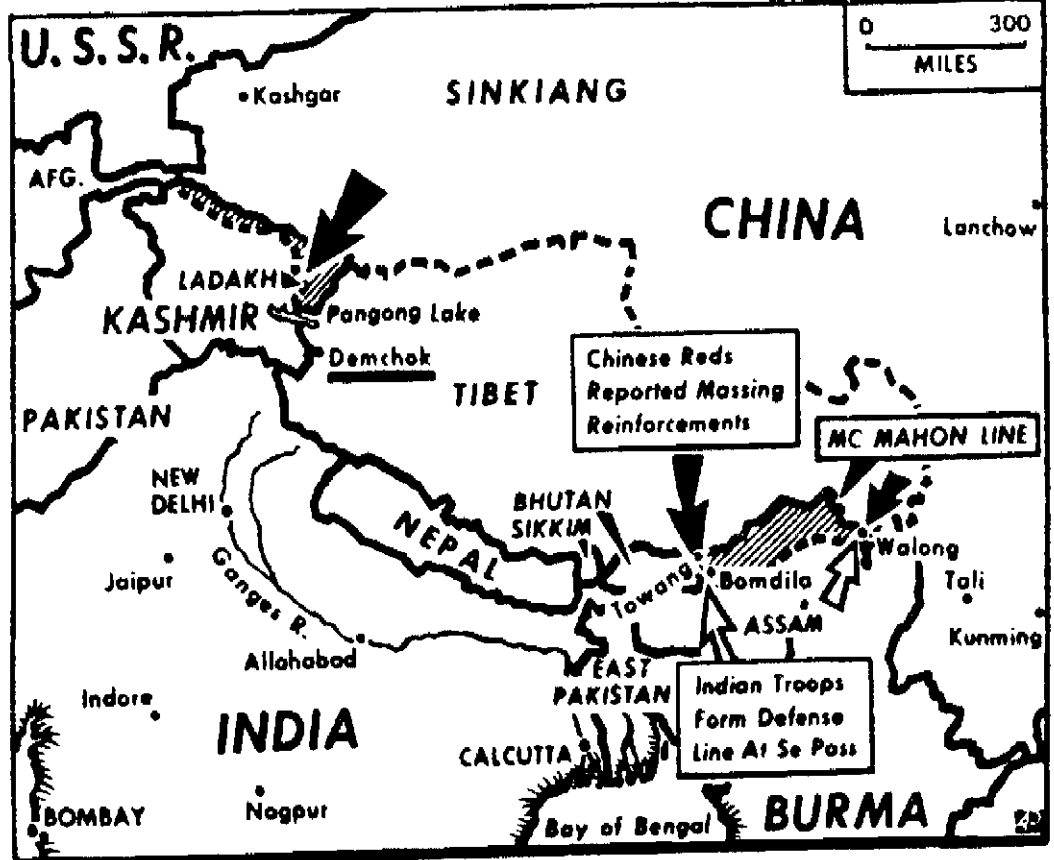

The tank, with about 25 gallons of fuel, fell on a residential street, tearing a hole 12 feet long and 4 feet deep.

No one was hurt and damage was confined to the pavement.

Curacao Oilfields Placed Under Guard

CURACAO, Dutch West Indies (AP)—Officials of the Shell Oil Co. refinery in Curacao took special measures Tuesday to guard against sabotage following the dynamiting of oil installations in Venezuela by saboteurs believed to be supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Shell refines Venezuelan oil.

A spokesman said guards were placed around the refinery's power station and warning circulars were distributed to the 6,000 employees.

In the northeast Indian troops are drawing a first defense line southeast of Towang at Se Pass with a main stand likely at Bomidila in an attempt to stop the Chinese, who are reported massing reinforcements for a drive to the plains of Assam state. Also in the northeast a Chinese drive was halted at least temporarily, at Walong. In the west, advancing Chinese broadened their hold by capturing Demchok, close to the Kashmir-Tibetan border. Force Still May Be Used Against Cuba

U. S. Policy Will Remain As Before

BY LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's pledge not to invade Cuba—part of the proposed crisis settlement—does not rule out force should Cuba pose a major new threat to the hemisphere, U. S. officials said today.

American policy toward Fidel Castro's government will remain as it was before Soviet missiles landed on the Caribbean island, they said, and Washington's efforts to isolate the Havana regime and to prevent it from sowing communism will continue. If Cuba had been another major threat to the Americas, the United States would have committed to defensive measures including use of force.

The interpretation of Kennedy's statement on Oct. 22 on Cuba given Saturday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev was supported by U. S. officials. They said Kennedy is expected to say more about it at his news conference Thursday.

No Effort

The President's guarantee does not take effect until Khrushchev goes through with his part of the deal—to withdraw nuclear capable Soviet weapons from Cuba. But questions about Kennedy's commitment are already being raised.

In New York the formation of a committee for the Monroe Doctrine was announced Tuesday night by World War I ace Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of Eastern Air Lines.

The committee's declaration charges that the Kennedy Khrushchev terms are contrary to the Monroe Doctrine in that it would appear to amount to a guarantee that Cuba will without forcible interference by the United States be permitted to remain a communist colony and therefore as a bare foot the continued political and psychological subversion of Cuba staged from U. S. shores.

Khrushchev in Trouble Over Cuban Buildup other nations in this hemisphere. Four Republican senators cautioned Tuesday against any agreement that might provide a permanent haven for communism in Cuba and protect Castro from Western Hemisphere harassment.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council announced in Miami it would proceed with armed action against Castro no matter what settlement Acting U. N. Secretary General U Thant may bring about.

Narrow Pledge

Washington authorities said Kennedy's pledge—made while U. S. military preparations pointed toward a possible invasion—is narrow and specific—not to invade Cuba if the offensive Soviet weapons are removed.

They described this as a small price to pay for the Soviet withdrawal because they believed no U. S. invasion had been intended before the weapons shipments were discovered.

They made three further points:

1. Kennedy's commitment—as summing the deal works out—is binding on the U. S. government in future administration.

2. It covers U. S. territory and anything that might be done from U. S. territory.

3. It does not guarantee the continuance in power of the Castro regime.

4. The United States remains committed to its hemisphere defense obligations. The basic inter-American defense charter, the 1947 Rio Treaty, provides for individual and collective action against armed attack. Unarmed aggression may be met under treaty provisions by a wide variety of counter measures ranging up to use of armed force.

5. The United States and its hemisphere allies have taken steps against Castilian subversion in the Americas and will take more.

A for the anti Castro exiles, the U. S. authorities said American government policy would revert to its previous position while the U. S. government sympathizes with the exiles, arms it is opposed to free wheeling attacks on Cuba staged from U. S. shores.

Berlin Peace Treaty Push May Have Been Delayed by Soviets

Pressing Problems Within Russia Also Cited as Reason for Waiting

BY DAVID M. NICHOL

CHICAGO Daily News Service

BOON—From varied quarters in Europe comes speculation today that the Soviet timetable for Berlin has been retarded once again in the aftermath of Nikita Khrushchev's Cuban debacle.

Soviet diplomats and newspaper men in Berlin are said to be spreading the word privately that a new effort will be made to reach agreement with the West or a peace treaty for the two German states and for the withdrawal of the Western garrisons from the divided city.

Only if this new effort fails, they say, will the Kremlin proceed with its plans for a separate peace with East Germany's Communist regime and the eternally dangerous unilateral attempt to liquidate the Western position in Berlin.

Significantly, these diplomats seem to be emphasizing that the move is no real change in the Kremlin's basic demands. Khrushchev still is clinging to the main features of his program that has been tried down rejected by the West in the four years of the current Berlin crisis.

Not Likely

Even in Moscow, it is pointed out by German correspondents today to the envoys of the kind Overholt last Berlin has dropped most of its aggressive requirements to a separate peace.

Ullrich's position is doubly awkward by virtue of the fact Soviet leaders expected the Cuban crisis to become acute a call was issued for an East German party congress in mid-February.

The Lenin summit to the day that Khrushchev was planning an audacious attempt to trade his Cuban rockets for a West Berlin settlement on Soviet terms. But the trading value of the rockets now has disappeared.

As things stand at the moment Ullrich will have little to offer the Last German countries he would a plea that they work harder for less money. Workers for example, no longer will be paid for time lost because of bottle necks in supplies or factory breakdowns.

Island Only One Of Problems Now Facing Russians

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Nikita Khrushchev has a tough month ahead. Pressure on the Kremlin leader may induce him to take risky actions against his better judgment and once again head a nervous world toward the brink.

A week from now, the U. S. S. R. celebrates the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik takeover of power. The Communist leadership likes to have some spectacular success to display for this anniversary. At the moment it has none.

Two weeks from now, the Soviet Central Committee has scheduled an important meeting. It could be a grim session with the Kremlin leadership facing up to some gloomy realities.

Backed Down

No matter how Soviet propaganda paints it for home consumption, Khrushchev backed down in the Cuban crisis and the party leadership is aware of that. The Cuban crisis probably made some high officers within the armed forces unhappy. There are hints of disenchantment with Khrushchev's cold war generalship.

There's an annoying war going on along the Indian Red Chinese border. It is embarrassing for Soviet policy.

Plans for new pressure on West Berlin may have gone askew because of the Cuban developments.

Chinese Denounce

The Cuban crisis probably has made the Red Chinese and the Stalinists around the world furious. The Chinese once again are denouncing modern revisionism—obviously meaning Khrushchev's policies.

Moscow seems to be running into resistance from the satellite states to plans for coordinating economies of the Communist world under Soviet direction as a reply to the European Common Market.

The Soviet government still "tangles with agricultural and industrial problems."

For the Russians, all this tends to make Cuba part of the whole cold war picture. Failure of Khrushchev's plans there can embolden his critics who disagree with many other policies.

Red Chinese pressure on India's borders obviously has been in defiance of Khrushchev. It could even be read as a deliberate attempt to place him in an uncomfortable position. Should he side with Red China, he alienates India and the rest of the so-called non-aligned nations. If he sides with India, he widens the Communist schism.

Regarding West Berlin, Khrushchev's opposition inside and outside the Soviet Union conceivably can bring much pressure on him to put up or shut up. He has promised for four years to sign a treaty with East Germany and to end Western allied rights in the isolated city.

Khrushchev probably will carry the day in the Communist party Central Committee.

O'Konski Plans To Retract Ad About Opponent

MERCER, Wis. (AP)—Republican Rep. Alvin O'Konski named in a half-million dollar suit over ads directed at his Democratic opponent in the 10th District congressional race, said Tuesday retraction have been ordered.

O'Konski said a committee supporting him had wired three daily and 23 weekly newspapers in the northern section of Wisconsin to print a retraction saying:

"I (Louis Hanson, Mellen) have been a permanent and unqualified resident of Wisconsin since Jan. 1, 1961, and all statements and inferences to the contrary are retracted."

The advertisements were published last week. They were headed "Who is this Chicago man?" They also purported to show Hanson had never filed Wisconsin income taxes, contentions rejected by John Gronowski, head of the Wisconsin Department of Taxation.

The libel suit was filed Monday in Circuit Court at Hurley.

No Name Calling?

Reynolds, Kuehn Trade Barbs in Joint Appearance on Platform

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin's governor candidates—Republican Philip Kuehn and Democrat John Reynolds—shared two speaking platforms Tuesday and the second time they met squared off in an exchange of reactionary and character assassination charges.

The two polite and respectful in previous joint appearances including a televised debate debated from routine as they appeared at a meeting of Milwaukee's Gilead Lodge of B'nai B'rith.

Saving he didn't intend to indulge in such character assassination or personalities, Kuehn later referred to Reynolds as "truly reactionary" and said the Democratic nominee was using "deception and grossly inaccurate and inadequate figures in discussing the state tax climate."

Reynolds had asked "Which Kuehn is the candidate?" The man of the singing commercials that ex leadership or the man who in 1954 denounced America's labor leaders as Marxist Socialist labor bosses who are trying to take this country down a rat hole.

Kuehn said in prepared remarks that campaigns like that of Reynolds may make necessary in Wisconsin a fair election practices commission to police campaign advertising.

Reynolds said that "a Republican victory in November will install in power a state administration dominated by the most irresponsible brand of 19th century speaking."

Earlier the two met with members of the Milwaukee Common Council taking opposite stands on Wisconsin's law requiring one year residency to qualify for re-election.

Kuehn favored keeping the law saying repeal would be an open invitation to drifters all over the country to come here and eat up our tax dollars.

Reynolds speaking after Kuehn said "I don't invite drifters. If people come for employment and are thrown out of their jobs we have a responsibility as a civilized society to see they are fed."

Reynolds favors repeal of the law.

Issue Papers

The candidates also issued new program papers. The one by Reynolds dealing with highways, Kuehn's with governmental employees.

Reynolds recommended construction of limited access highways linking metropolitan areas of southeastern Wisconsin and Chicago with the northern part of the state. He said such a system of roads would be a powerful tourist stimulus and an important commercial and national defense aid for the northern St. Lawrence Seaway region.

Charging laxity on the part of previous Republican administrations, when the basic allocation of federal interstate mileage was determined, Reynolds said the new state administration must work closely with the national administration in seeking that Wisconsin receives an adequate share of federal highway funds.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., visited Milwaukee Tuesday to support the campaigns of Reynolds and Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Praised Kennedy

Kefauver said the Cuban danger is not over and the United States must not let down its guard. He praised President Kennedy for handling the situation in Cuba and said had the Russians not agreed to dismantle the missile and bomber bases there probably would have been an invasion of Cuba.

Kefauver also attacked the voting record of Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley, who is bidding for re-election, hitting at Wiley's opposition to Kefauver's bill to control manufacturing and licensing of drugs.

Wiley also was the target of David Carver, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, who said at Racine the Republican senator has shown "an absolute incapacity to assist in the leadership of this country."

Wiley in Washington since he was called to a meeting of legislative leaders over the Cuban crisis Oct. 22, said Tuesday he will return to Wisconsin Thursday campaigning that afternoon in Wisconsin Rapids and in Wood County Friday. He plans to be in Milwaukee Saturday.

Cuban Crisis Takes Edge Off Campaign

Plenty of Points Remain for Bickering Between Two Parties

BY JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cuban crisis took the edge off this year's election campaigns but provided enough material for political bickering to last after Election Day.

The Republicans, who had been urging President Kennedy to "do something" before he cracked down on the Russian missile bases in Cuba, are now asking: Why didn't he do something sooner?

This was the main point made Tuesday night by Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa. But Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said the Republicans, now "shorn of the Cuban issue, seem to be saying: Yes, but you should have taken us into a nuclear war."

This, however, doesn't answer Scott's argument that Republicans had information the Russians were building Cuban missile bases long before Kennedy said he knew about it although, Scott said, the same information was available to the Kennedy administration.

List Timetable

Here is a timetable:

Aug. 24—The State Department said Communist ships were arriving in Cuba with technicians and military weapons which appeared to be only of the defensive kind.

Sept. 2—Russia announced it was sending Cuba economic help and armaments with technical specialists to train Cuban servicemen.

Sept. 4—Kennedy said he had no evidence the weapons were offensive but added: "Were it otherwise (Castro) will be prevented by whatever means necessary from taking action against any part of the Western Hemisphere."

Sept. 7—Under steady Republican pressure to "do something," Kennedy asked Congress, and subsequently got, approval for taking any steps he thought were necessary in handling the Cuban situation. This included the use of force.

Start Blockade

Sept. 8—Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., said he thought it might be necessary to start a blockade to stop and search Cuba-bound ships for war materials. This was the step Kennedy took a month and a half later.

Sept. 11—The Russian government warned the United States that, if it attacked Cuba, this would be the "beginning of the unleashing of war."

Sept. 13—At his news conference Kennedy said the arms shipments to Cuba did not constitute a serious threat to any other part of this hemisphere but that this "country will do whatever must be done to protect its own security and that of its allies."

Also on this date, according to Scott, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Senate Armed Services Committee a Soviet arms buildup was going on in Cuba. Scott said "I think the only conclusion can be that the President himself may not have received this information."

Sept. 14—One day after Kennedy said the Soviet weapons in Cuba were defensive—according to a Chicago Daily News Service story of Oct. 25—congressional leaders were called to the White House and given their first briefing on reports that the Russians were installing long-range ballistic missiles in Cuba. But, the News said, the evidence was regarded as inconclusive.

Scott said Tuesday night the Republicans in mid-September had "very hard information" that the Russians were building Cuban missile bases. He said the same information was available to the Kennedy administration.

He also said: "These missile bases were there a long, long time before the President spoke" in his nationwide broadcast of Oct. 22.)

Build Sites

Oct. 10—Keating said the Russians were building six intermediate range missile sites. He denied administration statements the buildup was defensive.

Oct. 13—Campaigning in Indianapolis, Kennedy jabbed at those self-appointed generals and admirals who want to send someone else's son to war. He said: "This is no time for rash and irresponsible talk—no time for confused and interperate reaction on the part of those who have neither the facts nor the responsibility to determine this nation's course." Although he did not name him, Kennedy's jab appeared intended for Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., who for several months had been calling for an invasion of Cuba.

Oct. 16—On this date Kennedy said in his broadcast of Oct. 22 and ordered a quarantine on the President "received the first fensive arms shipments to Cuba.

through the bubbles a couple of times, the bubbles stopped. Wall reached for a larger lure.

"All of a sudden," he said, "right out from the boat, up popped this scuba diver. He took a long look at me through that glass mask, scowled and then submerged as fast as he came up." Wall went home.

Legislature to Hear Talks on Criminals

Supervision After Prison Term Ends Will be Discussed

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — Ideas on how to supervise the potentially dangerous criminal upon his release from statutory prison terms will be offered to the state legislature next winter by the State Medical Society, one of its study commissions indicated here.

The problem is one that tends to provoke "spontaneous public outrage but lacks planned social response for a solution," the society's monthly publication said. It recalled the case of Terrence Donovan, Peshigo, a young parolee with a history of mental illness who wantonly killed a 21-year-old Milwaukee woman early in 1961 and seriously wounded her husband.

The problem is one of protecting the community from the mentally ill who do not fit into present legal definitions. It presents legislative and administrative problems, a preliminary study concluded.

New Law

A special committee of the society said it is working on a proposal for a new law that would provide for continued supervision of potentially dangerous persons after their release from institutional custody.

The committee includes psychiatrists, who are consulting with professional specialists of the state corrections division.

Dr. A. A. Lorenz, Eau Claire, is chairman. The State Bar of Wisconsin is collaborating in the studies.

Van Pelt, Laird And Byrnes

This area of Wisconsin, including the 6th, 7th and 8th Congressional Districts, is extremely fortunate in its representatives in the U. S. Congress. The Post-Crescent endorses without reservation the reelection of Republicans William K. Van Pelt, Melvin R. Laird and John W. Byrnes.

All are veterans in the House and as such have obtained positions of leadership. Byrnes is completing his ninth term. Van Pelt his sixth and Laird his fifth. Both Byrnes and Laird began their careers as members of the state senate and went directly from successful careers in the state legislature to Congress. Van Pelt had been a leader in the Republican party in his home area for a number of years.

Byrnes is recognized as one of the most influential members of the House. He is chairman of the Republican Policy Committee and, if reelected, will become the ranking Republican on the powerful Ways and Means Committee.

He is the spokesman in Congress for sound fiscal policy. He fits the Post-Crescent's ideas of progressive conservatism to a tee. He is outspoken, frank and unequivocal in the positions he takes on every issue, which he arrives at through studied and independent judgment.

Laird has only slightly less stature in the House. He is gaining seniority on two vital House committees, Agriculture and Appropriations, and has been one of the most enlightened spokesmen for the Wisconsin dairy farmer.

All three representatives have been loyal members of an inner circle of conservative Republicans who have been able to exert influence far beyond their numbers against wild-eyed "Fair Deal" proposals of the Kennedy Administration by combining forces with conservative southern Democrats.

The endorsement of these three candidates by the Post-Crescent is made on the basis of their record and their qualifications as well as a comparison of these with the quality of their opposition.

Congressmen have responsibilities to the districts they serve and to the nation as a whole, and should be chosen with such responsibilities in mind. On both scores the people of the three Congressional Districts in this area will never have to apologize for their current representatives.

Black Is White to Reds

Diplomats know full well how what the Russians say one week can be deftly switched around to come out exactly the opposite the next. But Robert Moses, president of the New York World's Fair planned for 1964 and 1965, had to learn it the hard way.

Last spring the Russians insisted that their contract to have an exhibit at the fair would be invalid unless the United States issued a statement of intention to reciprocate by having a U.S. exhibit at the Moscow fair in 1967. State Department officials immediately began drawing up such a statement. But then the Soviet Union announced that the Moscow fair had been indefinitely postponed.

At that point the State Department asked the Russians for permission to put on a two year exhibit in Moscow or Leningrad as long as the Russians were going to present something at the N.Y. fair. The Soviet angrily retorted that the N.Y. fair was not a "national exhibition" subject to reciprocity agreements under the cultural exchanges program. However, the Russians said they would discuss such an exhibit with U.S. officials.

Last month the State Department said it was agreeable to such discussion. And last week the Soviet Union called its cancellation of its exhibit in New York to Robert Moses because it claimed the U.S. was insisting upon the reciprocity which the Russians were insisting last spring we fulfill.

Moses believed the Russians and complained bitterly to the State Department who sent him the various communications to set him straight.

The reason for the Russian cancellation may be that it really does think it will have to permit another U.S. exhibition within the Soviet Union like the one which so enthused the Russian people a couple of years ago. But there is a suspicion that the estimated cost of the exhibit of some $20 million is also involved. The Russian government, which recently withdrew its planned tax cutting program is not flush with cash. And, despite the reputed success of its various trade fairs in other countries, its leaders may have decided that Americans in general and New Yorkers in particular are not going to be won to the Communist cause by an exhibit of either Soviet power or creative genius.

New U. S. Civil Service Pay Raises

Acting under provisions of the new federal pay law the Civil Service Commission has issued regulations which may cause some consternation among Civil Service employees.

In the past Civil Service employees automatically received their instep increases unless they had unsatisfactory performance ratings. Only about one per cent of the federal employees were adversely affected by that rule. In the future, however, supervisors must make a written authorization to the employee to receive an instep raise. Otherwise the employee does not receive it. This will be true even if he has a "satisfactory" performance rating.

The new rule further requires that supervisors will be required to "defend" their granting of instep raises for employees when the Civil Service Commission inspection teams visit their offices.

Some surprise was expressed when it was reported that the new rules have the support of the two main government employee classification unions—the American Federation of Government Employees and the National Federation of Federal Employees. Officials of both are reported by Civil Service Commission officials to have said that the new instep system is a good thing. Employees who are denied instep raises do not have the right to appeal to the Civil Service Commission. They can request a review by their agents but this is as far as they can go.

Other factors which make it difficult for incompetent workers to receive raises are the requests by Congress that federal agencies absorb as much of the pay raise as possible and President Kennedy's directive to cut federal employment costs. Under both of these provisions the supervisors will be under pressure to reduce payroll expenses as much as possible. It may be a temptation for some of them to save expense by denying instep raises. The change comes about through the President's pay reform plan which provided that classified employees' work had to be at an acceptable level of competence in order to get an instep increase. It is regarded as of some significance that this provision was not proposed by the President for postal workers. With respect to the postal workers the new law merely continues the old provision to the effect that postal workers get their instep raises after the regular allotted waiting period of "unsatisfactory service."

The new Civil Service rules may have some interesting repercussions in the months ahead.

Smooching and Driving

Romantic Paris, any time of the year is considered by tourists and Frenchmen alike as a site for love. There is probably more necking in public parks in Paris than even on most United States college campuses although no careful check has ever been made. But one Parisian city councillor is fed up. He would stop the cuddling and kissing in automobiles by lifting the driver's license for a time.

It isn't the moral aspect that bothers Monsieur Pierre Graud. In fact he thinks that every driver hauled into court for kissing in his car ought to be provided with a list of the public squares in Paris where he can smooch as much as he likes because "there they won't hurt anyone. But a kiss in a car could lead to accidents. Overdramatic drivers should be banned for between three and six months—after all it's not much longer than a honeymoon," says Graud.

But the length of the banning presents another problem. Should it be based upon the intensity of the emotional demonstration or the length of time the young man has been going with that particular young lady?

State Action Is Needed On Beer Sales to Minors

From The Wisconsin Traffic Safety Reporter

While denying "hard liquor" to persons under 21, Wisconsin state law permits the selling of fermented malt beverage (beer) to 18-year-olds.

However, municipalities may prohibit by ordinance the sale of beer to persons under 21 years of age; and, according to a Wisconsin Legislative Council staff memorandum, 15 municipalities prohibit the sale of beer and liquor entirely, 173 do not issue "beer only" licenses, and 145 prohibit by ordinance the sale of beer to minors.

Communities which by local option seek to keep minors and beer apart mean well. However, legal beer in other communities presents a temptation and a challenge to some of their young people. These young are driving to where the beer is—so "beer bars" is neighborhood area. It follows that they also have to drive home again.

When this happens, we are not only failing to separate teenagers from beer, we are in fact setting up the deadliest of combinations: drinking and driving.

A move toward a uniform legal age—possibly 21, as in our neighboring states—is taking shape. It deserves serious consideration.

Chiang at 75 Still Believes He'll See Return to Mainland

BY SPENCER MOORE

TAIPEI, Formosa, AP — President Chiang Kai-shek is celebrating his 75th birthday today in good health and still voicing confidence his Chinese Nationalists will recover mainland China in the future.

This birthday is his 18th in Formosa since he quit the mainland Dec. 10, 1949.

Chiang seems as alert as ever, his eyes still as penetrating, his power of concentration unimpaired.

He is still on state business, but a general "ready" standing by on emergencies.

He understands only a few people, his elder son, Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, his secretary-in-general, premier Chen Cheng, who has been associated with the Generalissimo since they were military cadets in Japan, and Vice President Premier Chen Cheng, a fellow native of the mainland province of Chekiang, who has served under him since 1954.

VARIES PATTERN OF LIFE

Since his last birthday, Chiang has varied some of the patterns of his daily life.

He works more at his summer home, moved to a presidential headquarters in downtown Taipei.

He spends fewer routine military, political, and economic conferences. He says most meetings of the powerful standing committee of the Executive Yuan (the ruling party)

The change in his pattern of work does not mean Chiang is idling his time away for his routine would take many a younger man. He is delegating more work to Chen Cheng, his police lieutenant, and other ministers, who are concerned with matters of top importance.

Chiang also wants to conserve his health. He regards this as a duty necessary for realizing his government's ultimate goal — recovery of the mainland and a desecration of the bloodshed for which he is under an obligation — a presidential responsibility — at the end of April.

He gets up at 6 a.m., exercises, is served by a former nurse and medic, he is a Methodist. He also works on his diary — a task he never neglects.

While he breakfasts on a table reads newspaper items likely to interest him.

RECEIVES VISITORS AT 10

After breakfast, his confidential secretary brings state documents for consideration. Around 11 a.m. he starts to receive important visitors.

Chiang works until about 1 p.m., then has lunch usually with Mme. Chiang. He naps for an hour, then returns to work, and often has guests at 4 p.m.

At 6 p.m. he usually walks in the garden or takes a drive. He and Mme. Chiang have dinner at 7 p.m. (7:30 p.m. sometimes with guests).

Before retiring, he does some exercise, drinks a glass of milk, prays and meditates. He is a sound sleeper.

Chiang does not smoke, or drink, but he offers cigarettes to guests and takes a symbolic sip of wine in ceremonial toasts.

He likes his meat and poultry well cooked and always has dessert — he dreams a custard or fruit. He drinks water in preference to tea.

Chiang does not like alcohol, dining, and even in summer dresses with it.

In public he usually wears an unadorned uniform. At home he wears a long Chinese robe.

STUDIES FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Chiang pays close attention to foreign affairs and how they affect his country's interests.

He also studies intently all intelligence reports from the mainland. He seems convinced a pro-Nationalist revolt will break out there. If it erupts, he is determined to fuse it with all the support his armed forces can give. He has promised to abolish the commune system and to guarantee the people freedom of residence, movement, correspondence, and family life.

Chiang regards the Chinese Communists as betrayers of the 1911 revolution which ended more than 40 centuries of monarchial rule in China. His longstanding policy toward them is a fight to the finish, no negotiations and no compromise.

Big Democratic Gains in Iowa

10 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Nov. 1, 1952

Des Moines, Ia. — Oct. 28 — The election returns received indicate a close vote. The Republican majority on the State ticket will not exceed 5,000 — a Democratic gain of about 17,000 from the vote of 1948.

Majority Democrats have a majority so far for Congress in the Third District. Herman Democrat is beaten about 17,000 votes in the First District in his home town.

Minority Democrats have from 10 to 15,000 more over Grinnell for Congress in the Fourth District.

Wiley-Nelson Tangle Rates as Toss-Up; Kuehn Is Favorite

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A consensus of various sources, partisan and independent, of the election prospects in Wisconsin at the moment will show something like this:

Philip Kuehn, the Republican nominee, favored over John W. Reynolds, the Democratic candidate, in the gubernatorial election although not by such a clear margin as to permit the Republican campaign to relax or to persuade the Democrats to give up theirs for lost.

The struggle between Sen. Alexander Wiley, Republican, and Gov. Gaylord Nelson, Democrat, so tantalizingly close as to be a probable toss-up, and with the extraneous circumstance of Wiley's departure for Washington for consultations in the Cuban crisis ironically counted as one of the big factors in his favor because it takes him off the Wisconsin stage.

The reelection by reasonably comfortable margins of all incumbent congressmen with the possible exception of Rep. Robert Kastenbaum of the second district whose Democratic friends are plainly worried and whose Republican foes are growing more optimistic.

The election of another Republican majority in the legislature, quite possibly a larger one than that which ruled the legislative branch for the last two years.

Wyngaard

SENATORIAL FIGHT

The senatorial contest until the President's blockade announcement was proceeding almost as the Democratic strategists had hoped it would when Wiley left for the campaign of Gov. Nelson months ago.

They knew that it would be difficult to replace the senior politician of the state in a normal campaign. They knew that they had to get some breaks — and that they could only come from him if they came. They needed and they provided and somewhat to their own surprise they started to draw angry and astounding responses from a rival who might have been supposed to be able to roll with such punches. For a couple of weeks Nelson's staff read the daily news dispatches with undisguised gloom as the senior senator quarrelled with newspapermen, indulged in angry adjectives and dismissed all talk of political issues, and Nelson continued a hard-working campaign keyed to dignified discussion of the legislative acts in Washington and the roll call positions of the Wisconsin Republican senator.

Then came the crisis. Sen. Wiley hurried to Washington for consultations at the President's request, and worried Republicans uttered nearly audible sighs of relief. The new theme may very possibly retrieve the ground that Wiley lost — the theme that he is an indispensable man in high policy, as certified by the President's call.

GOVERNOR

A problem in assessing the Kuehn-Reynolds campaign is the attitude of the independent voter. Kuehn and Reynolds presumably have the regular partisans in their corners.

Nor is there any likelihood of a substantial cross-over vote, of Democrats to Kuehn, or Republicans to Reynolds.

The nominees have shown no great appeal outside their own party circles. Kuehn was damaged by the right-winger associations earlier in the season. Reynolds was damaged by his refusal to offer positive answers, and details, on the dominant fiscal issue of the times in state politics. Somewhat curiously, their own vote-seeking lately has been subordinated to the fight between Wiley and Nelson for senator, which is unusual in state politics, and may tell something about the lackluster fight for the normally more important and more interesting question of who will be chosen to rule the state.

More justified than any other forecast is continued Republican control of the legislature if only in one house which means that even if the Republican majority does not win in the election, it cannot easily lose either, and any Democratic gain is likely to be an incomplete and inconclusive and powerless one.

Morning Cheerfulness Is Real Danger Sign

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Our text today, dear friends is taken from the Old Testament, Proverbs 23:10 — "He that is cheerful in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him."

I have in mind a particular woman — though her name is fictitious — who strides through our village on summer mornings, dispersing hearty good will to all the inhabitants. She is so resolutely cheerful that she makes the birds seem plump and downcast by contrast.

In me, there has always been something hysterical in the nature of such determined cheerfulness. I find it quite as offensive as the chronic grumpiness of the village malcontent.

Clinically speaking, in fact, the person who rises with the dawn and sets forth to inflict his high spirits upon the multitude is much more likely to crack up than the old grouch who asks merely to be let alone in his encrusted way of life.

There is a certain kind of loud laughter that often presages a plunge into deep and permanent melancholy; a certain kind of smile — everything — just — marvelous attitude that is perched precariously on the edge of mania.

It was no accident that the Steel Industry Facing Rough Time in U. S.

Companies Cutting Dividends for First Time Since 1930's

NEW YORK (AP)—The $16-billion steel industry, long a key prop to the nation's economy, has fallen on evil days.

Its money-making ability has gone to pot lately. There is promise of a pickup in the months ahead but not a great deal.

U. S. Steel Corp., industry goliath, showed how bad things have gotten with a report that July-September profits hit a 16-year low for a non-strike period and by cutting its dividend for the first time since the 1930's.

What does it mean to people generally those who don't own stock? How did the slump develop in a time of relative prosperity?

First, steel's troubles are a symptom that all is not well with the economy generally.

As Roger M. Blough, U. S. Steel board chairman, put it: "one factor that is holding back demand as much as anything is lack of industrial growth."

Gave Reasons

For reasons that go far beyond steel's problems, businessmen are not putting up new factories and buying new production machinery at a rate fast enough to provide a healthy expansion of the economy.

This reflects adversely on employment, slowing the process of putting jobless men back to work and holding back a rise in consumer spending power that would contribute to nearly everybody's prosperity.

President Kennedy, among others, has recognized the problem, and tried to do something about it by depreciation and tax reforms.

Secondly, steel's markets have taken a battering—from overseas steel producers, and from rival materials at home like aluminum, plastics, glass and concrete.

Holds Steady

These influences, started developing years ago. They help explain why, despite a 60 per cent buildup in capacity to 160 million tons since World War II, steel's production has held on a plateau of roughly 100 million tons a year for the last five years.

To complicate matters this year big steel users stockpiled heavily in the early months, hedging against a strike that never came, and have been living partly off inventories ever since.

Inability to raise prices, dramatized by last spring's historic conflict with President Kennedy over an attempt to do so, and steadily rising employment and other costs intensified the squeeze on steel company profits.

Still another factor is a techno-

Army Draft Call of 6,000 in December

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The army has issued a draft call for 6,000 men in December.

The total is 2,000 above the October and November quotas and is the highest callup since the 6,500 of last June.

logical upheaval in steelmaking methods. Because much domestic plant was old, foreign steel firms, rebuilt since the war, have gained competitive advantage.

To lick this problem, U. S. Steel Corp. and Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranking producer, between them have committed $400 million this year alone on new and improved facilities.

Cut Dividend

U. S. Steel became the fifth major steel company to cut its dividend Tuesday, paring its quarterly payout to 50 cents a share from 75 cents. The old rate had been in effect since late 1956.

At $26.8 million, July-September earnings fell to the lowest level since the April-June quarter of 1946 when $13.9 million was cleared. Profits in the 1961 third quarter were $51.8 million.

Of the 10 largest steel firms, two went into the red — Kaiser Steel Corp. and Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp.

Bethlehem's earnings dropped nearly 60 per cent, Republic Steel Corp.'s fell 45 per cent, National Steel Corp.'s about 35 per cent and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.'s almost 80 per cent.

Reserve Unit to Set Up 'Hardship Board'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Col. Joseph J. Lingle, commander of the 440th Troop Carrier Wing of the Air Force Reserve, said Tuesday only 20 inquiries regarding separation have been received since the unit was called to active duty.

Lingle said a hardship board will be set up within a few days to handle the applications. The 440th was activated last Saturday night.

The men, still at the base at Gen. Billy Mitchell Field, will be given time off, if needed, to wind up personal affairs, Lingle said.

"I realize that a reserve organization lives off the cooperation of employers and individual families," the colonel said. "We will do everything to cooperate, even granting time off if necessary."

Renew Fond du Lac Death Investigation

re-open the case and accused the district attorney of "electioneering."

Today, however, Marcille went from his second floor office to the first floor office of the sheriff and handed the latter an official directive calling for questioning of the two men.

Marcille's directive to Treleven said: "As a followup of my verbal request I am now instructing you to investigate and report to me on the whereabouts of the two men who were named on May 21 and 22."

I handed the directive to the sheriff in person," Marcille said. At the time, according to Marcille, the sheriff did not indicate whether he would comply.

The sheriff did tell me he would look into the possibility of suing me," Marcille said.

No Warrant

"We have no evidence which would warrant an arrest at this time but I do feel that the statements of the ex-convict should be checked out as well as the man he accused," Marcille declared.

"I haven't been able to understand why the sheriff has refused to do this," Marcille added.

Marcille said he had received cooperation from Fond du Lac city police about two weeks ago after Mrs. Sommers held a rendezvous with the ex-convict after he had reportedly bothered her with a series of telephone calls. Two city policemen were hidden nearby on the three nights Mrs. Sommers and the man met. A readable tape-recording was made on the third night.

The Post-Crescent learned the tape was authorized by Peter Forath, Mrs. Sommers' attorney, and that he furnished the recorder.

Questioned By Police

It was also learned that city police, at Marcille's request, picked the ex-convict up about a week ago and questioned him at the Safety Building. The district attorney said the reason he requested cooperation of local police, although the Sommers' case was under jurisdiction of the sheriff, is because the man resides in the city.

"We couldn't get much out of him and he made denials of knowing who was responsible for Sommers' death, if anyone," Police Chief James D. Cahill said today. Detectives that talked to the man at the time said he "had merely heard that so-and-so killed Sommers" and that it was a rumor.

City police were suspicious the man was attempting to obtain money from Mrs. Sommers. However, authorities said, no mention of money was reportedly made during the taped conversation.

Marcille says that on the tape recording the ex-convict specifically names the "alleged killer." He played a portion of the tape for reporters at his office Tuesday afternoon.

The district attorney said he has "an unconfirmed report" that the so-called suspect was hospitalized at the time of Sommers' death. "But this should all be checked out by the sheriff to clear things once and for all," Marcille said.

Marcille also said the ex-convict should be questioned extensively as to why he volunteered information to Mrs. Sommers under cloaked circumstances.

"We just don't have anything concrete to go on," commented Chief Cahill when asked why the city police had not entered the Sommers case. "If anything should come out of this we will cooperate to the fullest extent with everyone but there has got to be some evidence," Cahill added.

Marcille accused Treleven of telling "falschoods" Tuesday and his statement to newsmen "can no new evidence as the district attorney's original forney contends," the sheriff said.

handling of the Sommers death investigation.

No Knowledge

Marcille said the sheriff had drawn a square in the road to show where the Sommers' car was found, and also said the hose in the death car, was thrown into the garage at Sommers' home and was lost until the question of foul play was raised.

Treleven said he did not take a picture of the road after the car was removed.

"As far as the hose is concerned, I had no immediate knowledge of it and don't know how it got there (in Sommers' garage)," Treleven said.

"This is nothing but a political deal being pulled by the district attorney," Treleven charged.

"He (Marcille) has named no suspect to me and merely handed me a directive containing two names," Treleven added.

Treleven said he would talk to the men as per the directive telling "falschoods" Tuesday and "I'm quite positive there will be no new evidence as the district attorney's original forney contends," the sheriff said.

are several unofficial versions of what happened. One is that the Swedish ship simply wasn't detected as she moved through the perimeter of the blockade. Another is that she was hailed, identified herself and gave information on her sailing orders. A third version was that the Swedish ship ignored questioning signals from dians were attempting a limited offensive in the area, however.

Some 1,000 miles to the northwest in the other battle sector in Ladakh, there was no change in the situation, the spokesman said.

Asked whether the Soviet Union, an ally of Red China, is sending arms to India, the spokesman replied "Certain equipment was ordered from that country and it is coming according to schedule."

He declined to discuss individual items such as the dozen jet fighters that India has ordered from the Soviet Union.

Since the Red Chinese launched their all-out offensive Oct. 20, the spokesman said, "We have been approaching all friendly countries from which we might get equipment and supplies."

Sources in Moscow have indicated the Soviets will not provide weapons for the Indians to fight the Red Chinese.

Shipments of British infantry weapons have been received here. Britain, the United States and Canada have promised to provide more weapons.

The beginning of what is expected to be large-scale American military shipments to India is expected to arrive here by the end of the week.

The U. S. Navy intercepting vessel or vessels and just held her course for Cuba, unstopped.

Sweden, a traditionally neutral nation, has taken a dim view of the U. S. blockade action. A Swedish government communique last Friday cited the principle of freedom of the seas and said that under this principle "naval vessels of one nation may not in peacetime interfere with the ships of other nations in international waters."

this week. No details are available here, however.

The Red Chinese, who apparently have paused in their offensive, were reported to have put a large labor corps at work in the Himalayas building roads to bring up reinforcements and supplies.

Although the government is counting on massive U. S. weapons assistance to blunt and throw back the Chinese drive, the Indian press and government radio have given little publicity to this.

Reflecting years of official Indian nonalignment, most papers chose to publish circumstantial statements about assurances of American assistance, although they had available authoritative reports that the United States was asked by Prime Minister Nehru for arms, and has promised to rush them here.

The arrival of two plane loads of British arms was published on inside pages.

Besides automatic rifles and other infantry weapons, tanks and aircraft are expected to be written on the virtually blank checks which the United States and Britain have given India to order arms. Canada also has promised weapons.

The Indian army is counting on tanks to throw back the Red Chinese if they fight their way through the high mountain defenses to the lower foothills of the Himalayas in their drive toward the plains of Assam State.

Battles are now shaping up at 21,500-foot Se. Pass, 14 miles southeast of the Chinese-held monastery town of Towang, and at Walong in the mile-high Luthit River valley 15 miles west of the Burma border.

The two main Chinese drives are from those areas toward what they claim to be the border with India at the edge of the thickly settled Assam plains.

At the other end of the battle line in Ladakh 1,000 miles to the northwest, the Chinese already hold more than 12,000 square miles of what they claim is their territory.

Nikita Faced Bitter Debate

ment to persuade the United States and their allies to accept Soviet terms in Berlin.

By removing the missiles, Khrushchev had crushed a plan that had been worked out with his full approval and was almost ready for action, Malinovsky reportedly said. It was a "stupid" and "senseless" move, he added.

Political observers in Paris familiar with the Moscow reports believe that one of the most hazardous sides of the Khrushchev decision — and the one most favorable to the West — may be its consequences in neutralist countries.

It should now be clear to them that they are treated like pawns in the Soviet diplomatic game, flattered and aided when they are needed but flatly abandoned when they stand in the path of an east-west reconciliation.

India — bellwether of neutralism — seems to have already understood the lesson. Instead of calling to Moscow for weapons against the Chinese invasion Premier Jawaharlal Nehru turned to the West this time for modern weapons.

France has received an appeal for mortars and light tanks that President Charles de Gaulle is expected to answer today.

France also expects Khrushchev's action to favorably affect its relationship with the new Algerian government. What has happened to Fidel Castro might be a lesson to Algerian Premier Mohammed Ben Bella.

Miss Thoma Bride Of Robert Dailey

NEW LONDON — Robert Dailey Rev. Julius Manteufel performed the double ring rite. The bride was attended by her Mr. and Mrs. Leon Thoma, route 2, New London. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dailey, 405 Wyman St., are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Glenna Thoma, Milwaukee, as maid of honor, and her cousin, Miss Marla Thoma, Neenah, bridesmaid.

Wayne Steinbach, Waupaca, served as his cousin's best man. Groomsman was Theodore Knapp, Oshkosh. Ushering duties were shared by the bride's cousin, Marvin Dorschner, Hortonville, and Steven Fuhrmann, Madison.

A buffet supper was served in the church parlors. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple was graduated from Washington High School. The bride is employed as a secretary at the school. Her husband is employed at Schneider Construction Co.

After a honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the couple will reside at route 2, New London.

Marriage Announced

TIGERTON — Mr. and Mrs. Lester Marquardt, route 2, Tigerton, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Mae, and Daniel Berger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Berger, Nielsville. The couple exchanged nuptial promises at 11:30 a.m. Oct. 16 at Lawrence, Kan.

The bride attended Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point, where she was affiliated with Psi Delta Psi sorority. The bridegroom, a graduate of Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point, is employed as a teacher and studying toward a master's degree at Kansas University, Lawrence.

The newlyweds reside at 1321 Vermont St., Lawrence.

Stringing Corn

When your youngsters ask "What can we do now, Mom?" you might suggest that they string pop corn. This traditional Christmas activity is fun at any time of year.

Halloween, the Traditional Night when witches, ghosts and weird creatures roam streets and byways, has changed somewhat during the last hundred years. Eerie sounds, footsteps, throbbing in the walls, the sound of falling weights dropping endlessly through space, strange whispers, bells that ring without a hand, doorhandles turning with no one at the door, bolted doors that open of themselves — all spoken of by Tennyson in "The Ring" have been replaced by the more appealing neighborhood hobgoblin. Yet even they, in their dark journey, might do well to look over their shoulders for some of the creatures created here by Mrs. Albert Enwall. The method of making the dolls is told in the story at right. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Dolls Take Patience, Imagination

Mrs. Albert Enwall knows how to use wire, crepe paper and fabric for unusual effects. She created the dolls shown in the Halloween scene at left. She also made dolls for wedding and special occasion centerpieces.

The doll-making process begins with stove wire which forms the base and makes it possible to give the dolls shape. Paper napkins then pad the wire frames. Mrs. Enwall winds one-half inch strips of pink crepe paper around and around the padded wire, thicker where shaping is desired. The final layer is stitched in place.

The dolls are dressed with scraps of fabric, thoughtfully saved by friends. Old jewelry, taken apart, and old dresses with sequins and beads, provide a sparkly effect when desired. Heads are fashioned of a napkin, rolled into a ball and wound with crepe paper. Angel hair, wool from worn sweaters or tiny strips of paper curled on a needle are used for hair. Black paper, sticky on one side, is cut into eyelashes. The mouth, nose and possibly wrinkles are painted on with water colors or poster paint. A clown's nose might be a button or a bead.

When the figure, or group of figures, is completed, it is mounted on styrofoam balls with straight pins.

Mrs. Enwall says that doll-making isn't difficult, just time-consuming. It takes patience, and practice. But it's fun to do, and might be worth a try.

Teen-Agers Find Dancing Difficult Outside Their Set

BY VIVIAN BROWN
Can you dance when you are away from your own set?

Well-known dance instructor Al Wynters of Clawson, Mich., says you can't "because young people make up their own dance steps and can usually dance only with their own crowd."

He explains: "Time was when a waltz could be danced anywhere in the world, but the traveling teen-ager is at a loss when asked to dance away from home."

Wynters' wife Angelene, a former ballerina, is the other half of their dance team. They have danced together around the world, and have been giving instruction for 15 years. The team instructs on land, and at sea (cruise boats) and see the day coming when they can add "air" to their list. They are well known entertainers to hotel diners and television viewers.

Teen-agers know it all. "Young people should take formal lessons in whatever new dance comes along," Wynters advises. "If they learn the correct way to dance, they can do variations in their own set, but fall into the authentic pattern when it is required."

But young people are hard to teach because they think they know all the answers, he says. "It's easier to teach the over-40 set, who've become aware they didn't know all the dance steps when they were teen-agers, and really want to learn," he points out.

Wynters bemoans the current lack of respect for the art of dancing, and the fact that many boorish boys dance just to hold a girl in their arms. "Dancing is a dignified pastime, but some young people make it a weird exhibition. A fiancée was graduated from Neenah High School. A wedding date has not been a smart dance, but can be so set.

Church Ladies To Hold Supper

Three lessons and you've learned the pachanga. Wynters says the sad fact is that one of these days there won't be anyone teaching dancing. "They won't be able to afford it."

Art on Way Out?
The average good dance team has been hurt by television, because millions of people see them at one time. There is a demand, too, for more spectacular entertainment with action that the camera can pick up. The intimate gestures of a dance team that add to the artistry of an act are lost on TV, he says.

"It is typical of our operation now that we conduct a dance studio at poolside as we did at a Montauk surf club this summer, and perform as a team at the hotel at night. People on resort strips winter and summer seem to be the last people left who have time to devote to dance lessons."

Church Ladies To Hold Supper

SCANDINAVIA — A traditional Norwegian supper, sponsored by the ladies of the Scandinavia Lutheran Church, will be held Saturday at the church. Seating will begin at 5 p.m.

The menu includes lutefisk, lefse, Norwegian meatballs and grav, boiled potatoes, rutabagas, cranberries, cabbage salad, and Norwegian pastries and baked goods. Waitresses will be dressed in Norwegian costumes. A sale of Norwegian baked goods and fancy work will be held.

Appetizers

Cubes of meat and colorful fruits or pickles, run through with long cocktail picks, make dramatic appetizers and garnishes. Soak strips winter and summer seem to be the last people left who have time to devote to dance lessons. This prevents charring when placed under the flame.

Juntas Sr. Tri-Y Jack-O-Lanterns To Brighten Hospital Halloween

This is a night not just for the very young, but for the in-betweens and the elderly. Residents at Outagamie County Hospital will have a brighter Halloween because members of the Juntas Sr. Tri-Y got together Sunday afternoons to make it so.

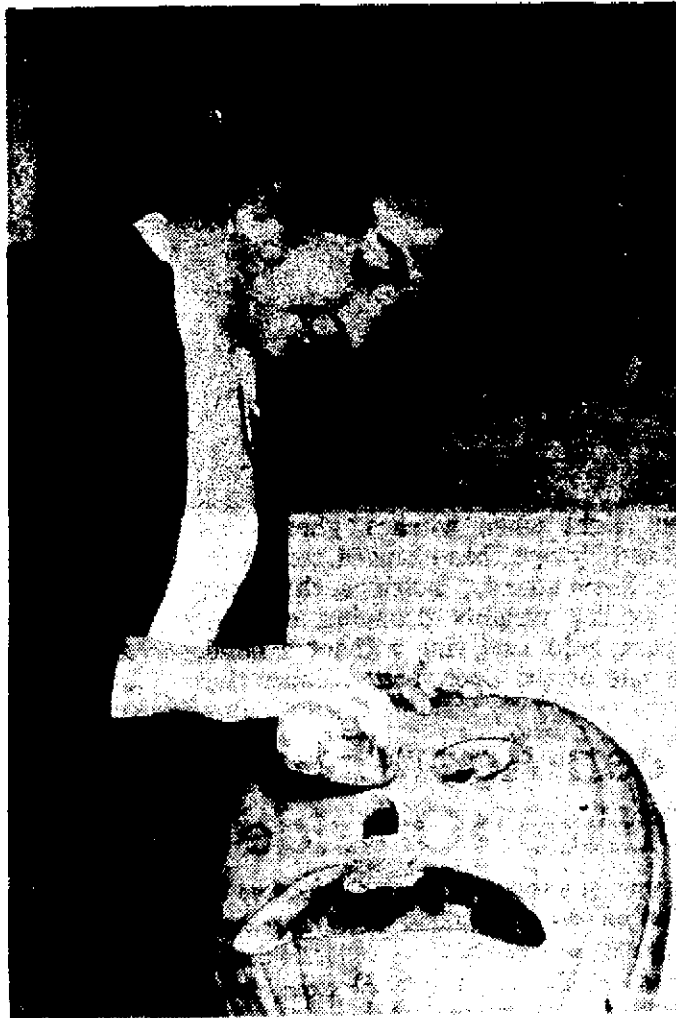

The young women gathered at the home of Miss Becky Bates, 1624 W. Brewster St. Sharp knives, pixie imaginations and crayons were put to work. The pumpkin heads were then decorated with glitter, and lighted with warm candlelight.

Tri-Y members delivered the pumpkins to hospital residents in time to make their holiday spirits rise like the sprites of an autumn woodland.

Joan Brooks Looks as if She has some question about the task of removing the moist inside of a pumpkin. The girls each did their share of work in creating the charming, smiling faces that will brighten Halloween for residents of the Outagamie County Hospital.

Working on a Table Large Enough to hold pumpkin seeds, scrapings, jaunty caps and smiling faces are Terry Deal, Becky Bates, Kay Eisch, Joan Brooks and Sue Knoke. Below, Becky Bates lights candles in the finished pumpkins.

At Left, Terri Deal and Sue Knoke perform the first necessary steps in making a Jack-o-Lantern. Cutting the cap and marking the features with pencil or crayon is the beginning of the smiling face that will shine out their Halloween greetings. Above, Kay Eisch adds a touch of glamour by sprinkling glitter on Mrs. Pumpkin's face. (Post-Crescent Photos)

A new idea in neckline fillers is a dickey with a turtle neck collar, offering the throat covered look without the bulkiness of a sweater under a jacket. For dress up occasions are dickeys with velvet or satin ruffles up to the chinny chin chin.

The Ailing House Ice Box Seal Can Be Repaired

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: The gasket around the refrigerator door is no longer as effective in sealing as it should be. How can I replace the gasket?

A: Best replacement is with the specific gasket for the particular refrigerator you have; this is usually available from the refrigerator service. Or satisfactory replacement material, for adequate re-sealing around the door, can be purchased by the yard or in packaged pre-cut lengths, from many hardware and housewares dealers. This material is usually adhesive-backed.

Mirror Into Tray

Q: I have an old mirror I want to convert into a tray. The silvering on the back has blackened in spots and no longer reflects well. How can I remove the backing?

A: First remove the coating protecting the silvering with prepared paint remover, following label directions carefully. Then cover the exposed silvering with a layer of salt, moistened with a solution of one part water and three parts acider vinegar. The chemical action produces chlorine, which softens the silvering. After several hours, the silvering can usually be wiped off clean.

Strong Yet Safe - Gives Hours of Continuous Relief from Minor ARTHRITIS PAINS

Reduces swelling and inflammation so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again

No cure as yet has been found for arthritis. But medical research has established that the strong yet safe medication in Anacin® gives hours of relief from arthritis' minor pains—even such chronic pain arising from deep in joints. It has also been found Anacin has an anti-inflammatory action that helps reduce swelling and inflammation—a basic cause of arthritis suffering. In minutes—pain is relieved so it's easier to move around and this helps keep joints from 'locking' or 'stiffening.'

Anacin Tablets are so effective because they contain strong yet safe medication. Remember, aspirin or buffered aspirin has only one pain reliever. But Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of three medically proven ingredients. And Anacin does not upset the stomach. Take as directed.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 8 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special taste for children and adults.

Child Must Know Need Of Work

When Dad can't make it to Junior's birthday party it may be a disappointment. But you can help Junior to see that Dad's interest in his work is really interest in the family.

Having the family realize that father's work is important to him may sometimes be a problem.

Every father wants to succeed financially and have the prestige and status that goes with this success. Perhaps even more important is the satisfaction he gets from using his abilities productively.

When father works hard both mother and the children need to understand that it's important to him and that he's doing it for them as well as himself. It's often easy for mother to feel that she's neglected, for work does rob her of some of the companionship she so desires.

If father is so involved in his work, which he usually can't share with his wife, it doesn't help for mother to nag and complain.

Of course, husbands need to be aware of the emotional and affectional needs of their wives. It can work the other way—the wife being too eager for her husband to succeed and trying to push him beyond his capabilities.

Another thing that women sometimes fail to understand is that middle age may be a discouraging time of life for a man. He may have real concern for thinning hair, unfulfilled dreams and other career problems. A wife should understand how life looks to her husband and let him know that she still thinks he's a wonderful person.

HAVE FUN, KIDS... BUT DON'T DESTROY PROPERTY!

Keep the spirit of Halloween "bright". Avoid activities that lead to accidents and destruction of property. One way you can help is in seeing that street lights are not broken or damaged. Dark street areas are the greatest source of serious accidents to both pedestrians and motorists.

Halloween Mask
 Halloween is a time for witches and here is a witch hazel mask to put on and take off before the halloween party. Place two heaping tablespoons of kaolin (also known as Fuller's earth and obtainable at any drug store) in a saucer. Pour in enough witch hazel to make thick, creamy paste. Spread the mixture over the face and throat. The mask dries a ghostly white. Remove it with plain water and notice how clear and smooth it leaves the skin. A fine foundation for applying makeup.

Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night while walking down the street my wife and I saw a group of teenagers appear out of nowhere and suddenly attack another youth. They beat and kicked him unmercifully. This was done without provocation as nearly as we could determine.

Landers

I wanted to go to the assistance of the victim but my wife hung on to my arms and pleaded with me to stay out of it. In a few minutes the police arrived. Now I'm not certain I did the right thing. Perhaps I should have broken away from my wife and at least attempted to help the boy.

My wife insists I should not have become involved. She claims a man's first duty is to his wife and family. If I had become seriously injured or crippled in that fight, she pointed out, it would have produced real problems for her and the children. We both agree there is a question of morality involved. We would like your opinion. — Dobbs Ferry, N.Y.

DEAR DOBBS FERRY: Since Cain slew Abel man has been faced with this ethical dilemma. It boils down to the simple proposition: Should I volunteer to help my brother at the risk of endangering myself? I say yes. This is the fundamental concept of brotherly love. Mar cannot safely ignore the indignities and injustices about him for the sake of saving his own skin.

Every day each of us faces risks involved in the daily business of living. Even the lowly turtle must stick out his neck if he is to make progress.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiancé is wonderful but he has a bad habit and I don't know how to cure him. He borrows $10's and $20's and forgets to pay me back. I'm a nut when it comes to details and I keep track of everything. He owes me $140.

It's not the money I care about. Ann, it's the idea that he doesn't see anything wrong in forgetting to pay his debts. I'm sure if he does this with me he must do it with others. This is bad for a person's credit and it also hurts his reputation. He makes good money but he doesn't know where it goes. How can I help? — Mollie cure him before marriage the problem will be an active volcano after marriage — erupting periodically and causing serious trouble.

Ask your fiancé to give you his check and suggest he live on an allowance. (When money disappears into thin air it means there is no budgeting and borrowing is inevitable.)

Next ask for a list of his debts and start to pay them. You sound like the best thing that ever happened to him. I hope he appreciates you, Doll.

DEAR ANN: I'm an adult who should know the answer to this simple question. (It's so simple I'm ashamed to ask anyone for fear they will think I have floundered.)

when women were supposed to be shy and retiring.

Another friend says the woman speaks first because she should have the prerogative to ignore a man if she doesn't want to recognize him. What about this? — Juanita

DEAR JUANITA: According to The Book, the woman should speak first, but this is one of those fine points which means little. When friends meet, the one who recognizes the other first usually speaks first—and this is as it should be.

Q. Can my nine-year-old chihuahua still sire a litter of puppies? A. Would the pups be healthy? P. Seelso, Boston, Mass.

A. Age isn't a factor here. As long as a male dog, or any other animal, is healthy he can sire to a very old age. I know of one horse that sired when he was 29 years old. Age doesn't affect the quality of the offspring either. There is one school that believes the age of the father improves the offspring. I usually advise owners of female dogs to breed them between the ages of one to about eight years. Even then extremes of age have not been an obstacle to good puppies. However, remember that breeding a female too often, regardless of age, will be hard on her.

Learn to Face Facts

You can't fight effectively with troops that you don't have. If part of your army is put out of action, face the fact and do your best with what's left. Now that you know how to be a general, see if you can be a bridge player.

It was very unlucky for South that West opened a club and that the club finesse lost. Shed one small tear for South and then go on.

East returned the six of clubs to dummy's ace at the second trick, thus removing the side entry to the long diamonds. Undaunted by this calamity South led the king of diamonds from dummy, hoping that somebody would be foolish enough to take the trick.

No such luck, of course. East refused the trick, and West began a high-low with the nine of diamonds to show that he held a doubleton.

South might have gotten away with another diamond trick if he had led the queen of diamonds from dummy since East might have played his partner's nine of diamonds to be a singleton. Ac-ually, South didn't think East would make such a mistake. West had thought before playing the nine of diamonds, and he wouldn't have thought if he had held a singleton. (In theory, East should not be influenced by this slight hesitation, but this hand was being played in practice — not in theory.)

Tries Finesse

Instead of continuing diamonds, South tried a spade finesse. When this worked, he had three spades, two hearts, one diamond, and two clubs. He came close, but not close enough.

When dummy's ace of clubs is knocked out at the second trick South should face the fact that the diamonds are dead. He needs four spades to make the contract and should therefore immediately try a finesse with the nine of spades.

Spades, and South gets back to dummy with a diamond to take the other spade finesse. The odds were 3 to 1 against winning both spade finesse, so South needed good luck; he needed a miracle to bring the diamonds in.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S Q 10 8 5 H J 8 3 2 D A 8 4 C K 6. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. With two four-card suits, respond in the cheaper suit first.

Try this honey of a facial treatment. Pour a small amount of liquid honey into the palm of the hand and then pat the cheeks, using the finger tips of both hands. Repeat of the walnut of the end tables for the wall paneling will solve your problem. It will be so much more becoming to the sofa, will add more of a rich dark color, which the room needs, and will tie the furniture woods into the scheme.

Use the chests together and hang a large mirror above the lower one to help the general proportions. One interior designer with the same problem had mirrors out to go above both chests; straight across the top and down to each chest top at its own level. This was quite effective in making them look as if they belonged to each other.

Democratic Hopeful Holds No Illusions About Success

Owen Monfils Seeking Eighth District Seat of Rep. John Byrnes

BY JAMES BARTELT
Post-Crescent News Service
SURING — The first snow flakes of the season were in the cold air as a man in a neat brown suit and no topcoat walked down the main street handing out folders from an open briefcase.

"Pardon me a minute, sir, while I introduce myself. I'm Owen Monfils, running for Congress from this district," he says.

Monfils, 36-year-old Green Bay lawyer, has no illusions about his chances of success. He is running against Rep. John Byrnes, an incumbent of 18 years and a national Republican leader.

Monfils is Eighth District Democratic chairman. The post accounts for both his realistic appraisal of his chances and his being in the race in the first place.

No Candidate

District Democrats had hoped to recruit Victor Miller, St. Nazianz lawyer and businessman, as their candidate. Miller decided against it, and the party found itself lacking a candidate.

"We needed a candidate, and I agreed to be drafted," jokes Monfils.

In the 1960 presidential election when 172,000 votes were cast, Byrnes won by 30,000 votes. In 1958 when the total vote was 121,000, Byrnes won by 18,000. The total vote next Tuesday can be expected to be closer to the 1958 total.

About 70 per cent of the votes are cast in Brown, Outagamie, and Manitowish Counties. Byrnes won in 1958 by 7,000 votes in Outagamie, 6,000 in Brown, and 800 in Manitowish.

Owen Monfils

personal backing. Monfils has analyzed.

"Even in the days of (Sen.) Joe McCarthy, there was always somebody to stand up and argue for him. But regardless of what you say about John Byrnes, nobody ever stands up to fight for him as an individual," reports Monfils.

Monfils has injected this view into his formal campaign talks. Byrnes ignores district problems and has done "nothing but work for the Republican Party at the national level," Monfils tells his audiences.

Monfils Charge

Once the election is over, the voters "won't see him again until the next election," charges Monfils. And Byrnes constantly votes in common with Southern Democrats against the attitudes and needs of the Eighth District, he adds.

A spectator following Monfils might conclude he has not made the transition from district chairman or is only conducting a holding action against Byrnes. Monfils spends as much time telling audiences about the need to elect Gov. Gaylord Nelson as senator and preaching the anti-sales tax gospel of Atty. Gen. John Reynolds as he does talking about himself. For good measure, he plugs county candidates.

Monfils says, however, that there is a practical reason for doing this as a candidate.

"I need them more than they need me," he says of hopes for straight ticket voting.

Monfils has kept at his law practice, and his campaign schedule is elastic with ability for improvising.

No Coffee

One recent day, for example, he spoke at a luncheon attended by 60 at the Fireside Restaurant at Oconto Falls. He went on to tramp the streets and stores at Suring, but an afternoon coffee meeting failed to materialize.

At the suggestion of a banker friend, Kenneth Paulson, a church supper at Hickory was added to the schedule. A Farmers Union meeting at Crivitz, the reason for being in Oconto County in the first place, ended the day.

Monfils traveled with Wilbur McDougal, 70-year-old Democrat of Oconto Falls, and Robert McCormick, Green Bay insurance man with business roots in the area.

Daily press releases are mimeographed and mailed from his law office.

School Writer

For source material, Monfils has depended upon research matter furnished by the Democratic National Committee. Other research and writing has been done by Henry Delacenserie, a friend, who teaches high school at Howard's Grove.

For his speeches, Monfils has concentrated on domestic issues with top priority going to the Administration plan for Medicare under Social Security. Since last week, Monfils has added praise of President Kennedy's handling of the Cuban crisis.

Monfils noted that Byrnes voted with the majority in the 15-10 Ways and Means Committee vote against reporting out the President's Medicare bill. To this, he ties the traditional blast of a challenger, saying the incumbent should debate the issues.

"The point is your congressman represents 411,000 people. He shouldn't come back here and insult your intelligence by not discussing what he thinks about Medicare. If I am not elected, let's at least give him a close race so he becomes more responsive," Monfils told the Oconto Falls meeting.

Hits Sales Tax

Traveling with Monfils, perhaps again reflecting his party organization background, also is like part of a public opinion poll. He lectures on the attributes of President Kennedy and the evils of a sales tax after first asking "What do you think of what the President did in Cuba?" and "What do you think of the sales tax?"

Either because he was in friendly country or because he was lucky, Monfils got two anti-sales tax opinions from merchants and a farmer to volunteer that the GOP was out "to tax the poor" on his walk down Main Street in Suring.

Monfils reports he is enjoying his work. Because of what he believes is Byrnes' lack of personal popularity, color, and identification with local issues, Monfils says an adequately financed campaign instead of the mere $3,800 he has rounded up could defeat Byrnes.

Satellite Orbits For Data on Earth

Could Change World Maps and Help Track Men to Moon

BY HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A flashing light "Firefly" satellite soared into orbit today to measure the size and shape of the earth in an experiment which could produce more accurate world maps and establish guide lines for tracking men to the moon.

18,000 Miles An Hour

The 555-pound satellite, named Anna, rocketed away from Cape Canaveral at 3:08 a.m. atop a Thor-Able-Star booster. An hour later the Defense Department announced it was in a successful orbit about 700 miles above the earth.

The first stage pushed the pack age to the edge of space. The second stage fired for two minutes, then shut down and coasted for 52 minutes before restarting its engine to eject its satellite into orbit high above Ethiopia at a speed of nearly 18,000 miles an hour.

Officials reported that clear signals were being received from the payload.

Because the rocket was fired on a northeast heading in the direction of the Soviet Union, the Defense Department announced time and direction of launching in advance. Sources said this was done to alert the Soviet Union so that the Russians would not mistake the rocket for a hostile missile.

Official name of the satellite is Anna 1B, with the letters standing for Army, Navy, Air Force and NASA the participating agencies. The "Firefly" nickname derives from four high-intensity xenon gas lights designed to be photographed against a background of stars as they flashed on and off at designated times.

The blinking beacons — plus other precise radio, navigation and tracking instruments — were to help ground stations calculate distances on the globe and the general shape of the earth's surface and strength of its gravitational field with accuracy not possible before.

School Mission Opens Nov. 1

Appleton Catholic Parishes Take Part In Spiritual Event

The second annual teen-age mission for Catholic young people attending public high school will be conducted simultaneously in three Appleton parishes Thursday through Saturday.

The mission for teen-agers of Sacred Heart and St. Bernadette parishes will be conducted at Sacred Heart Church by Father Ancil S.S.S.

The Rev. Thomas Adams, M.M. will conduct the mission at St. Pius X Church for the youth of St. Theresa and St. Pius parishes. Father Benedict, O.F.M. Cap will speak at St. Joseph Church to the young people of St. Joseph and St. Mary parishes.

Hear Confessions

Priests from all six Catholic parishes in Appleton will assist in the hearing of confessions during the mission.

The mission will start at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, following registration from 7 to 7:30 p.m. On Friday the mission will begin with mass at 9 a.m., followed by breakfast. Conferences will be held throughout the day until 5 p.m. On Saturday morning, the mission will close with a youth communion mass.

The teen-age mission is held each year during the Wisconsin Education Association convention in order to give the young people the opportunity of a spiritual program similar to the annual retreat held in Catholic high schools.

Oshkosh Employment Reaches 1962 High

OSHKOSH — Employment in Oshkosh has reached a high for 1962 of 10,477 according to information compiled by Albert F. Nelson, Oshkosh district manager of the state employment service.

The employment figures represent a gain of 61 per cent over the August figures and are mainly the result of seasonal employment increases in retail and wholesale trades.

Building construction also showed a substantial gain while manufacturing employment was down slightly.

Nelson reports there has been a heavy demand particularly for women for seasonal mail order work and for retail store work. He reported there is a shortage of qualified workers in almost every category.

Man Injures Hands In Press Accident

MENASHA — A 60-year-old Menasha man, employed as a pressman at the Marathon Corporation Canal Plant in Menasha is in satisfactory condition at Theda Clark Hospital today following an accident at the plant Tuesday morning.

Fred H. VanHorn, 60, 616 Appleton St., sustained a serious injury to his left hand and minor injury to his right hand when he got them caught in a press about 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A hospital spokesman this morning said that VanHorn lost at least one finger on the left hand.

Members of the Appleton League of Women Voters make final plans for the candidates' rally at 8 p.m. Thursday at Edison School. From left are Mrs. James Ming, who will be the moderator, and Mrs. Jacob Shilcrat, chairman. New Ideas Are Essential in Industry, K-C Head Asserts NEENAH — Industrial success and innovation have become essential tools of successful industrial operation," he said in an article titled "The Case for Creativity" in the current issue of "Cooperation."

"Forward planning, creativity — One big change is in the approach to marketing. Tradition- ally, industry's role has been that of producer and supplier — chester. The car hit the corners manufacturer of the goods needed by the people. But this no longer is enough. America's markets don't automatically accept and absorb whatever increased production industry may be able to supply. Instead, industry must seek out specific customer needs and adapt its production to these needs."

He said the company is operating in a newly complex economy along with all other industry. "Times that call for receptivity to new ideas and willingness to make them work."

Appleton Man Hurt at Green Bay Reported Good

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — An Appleton man was reported in good condition at St. Vincent Hospital Tuesday afternoon following a construction accident at the Green Bay Packaging Co. Paper Mill.

Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1962 Appleton Post-Crescent #10

Wisconsin Road, was treated for electric shock and body bruises following the mishap about 2:30 p.m. Spokesmen said Feldmann was holding onto a steel hook at the end of a crane boom which approached within a few inches of a 13,800 volt conductor. Leakage from the conductor flowed down the steel cable to the hook causing Feldmann to "freeze" to the hook. The unidentified crane operator swung the boom away from the conductor and in doing so knocked Feldmann backward into the edge of a machine.

Feldmann, employed by the Hennes Trucking Co. of Appleton was part of a work crew installing new machinery at the plant.

FRESH-LOCK

SEAFOODS

by Gorton's are FRESHER than FRESH

How

New Scientific Discovery Now Keeps Your Frozen Seafood Fresher Than Fresh!

For nearly half a century Government and industry food technologists have been trying to figure out a way of getting fish and seafood with that sea-fresh taste into the home.

Gorton's of Gloucester, Inc. now has the answer. Fresh-Lock Seafoods by Gorton's is a patented process, exclusive with Gorton's of Gloucester, Inc. This makes it possible to put on your table, wherever you may live, fish and seafood that has the fresh-from-the-sea flavor.

This desirable breakthrough has been accomplished by a process that adds nothing to the fish, takes nothing from it, but that retains all the qualities of flavor, texture, color and nutrition found in sea-fresh fish and seafood. And this is done by using a component normally found in live fish.

The only way to have really fresh fish is to catch it yourself and cook it immediately. So-called "fresh fish" bought in the stores is either frozen and then thawed, or iced. For those who can't catch but must buy fish, Fresh-Lock Seafoods by Gorton's give the satisfaction that heretofore has been the exclusive delight of the fisherman.

Housewives privileged to taste "Fresh-Lock" seafoods by Gorton's during a preliminary consumer survey, overwhelmingly declared that the fish looked, felt and tasted like sea-fresh fish. Food connoisseurs and epicures have given similar verdicts.

Now, at last, through Gorton's new Fresh-Lock seafoods, everyone can enjoy the tasty delights of frozen fish that really is fresher than fresh.

Fresh-Lock Seafoods produced by a new process exclusive with Gorton's retain natural juices and nutritive elements of fresh caught fish to bring you truly fresh flavor and goodness.

Royal Autos Not for Sale

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—The Queen of England has notified the city treasurer that the royal automobiles were not for sale.

Robert Jordan, Galesburg city treasurer, wrote to her majesty in August stating that both he and his 6-foot, 10-inch son, Robert Jr., have trouble with American cars because manufacturers are building them lower and smaller. He asked permission to purchase one of Elizabeth II's vehicles which feature a lot of headroom and longer bodies than U.S. models.

The queen's reply written by the crown equerry, Lt. Col. J. Miller stated, "There are no cars in the royal mews which are to be disposed of, but in any case this is never the practice to dispose of royal cars privately."

Your Money's Worth Tax Break on Trips Hit by Revenue Act

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Under the new tough expense account clauses in the 1962 Revenue Act, your tax break on combined business-pleasure trips will be cut down considerably.

Up to now, you could combine a pleasure with a primarily business trip and still deduct the entire travel expense as a business outlay. For instance, you, a New York businessman could fly tomorrow to San Francisco for a week's convention, spend an extra week vacationing in surrounding communities, then fly home — and deduct the entire cost of your flight to and from plus the cost of your stay in San Francisco as business travel expenses.

Travel Cut

But the new law says that starting next year, if your trip takes more than one week and 25 per cent or more of your time is for personal activities, the travel expense deduction must be cut proportionately. If you took precisely this same trip next year, you'd come under both the above new rules — a trip away for more than one week and more than 25 per cent of the time spent on personal pleasure.

As a result, only half the cost of your flight from New York to San Francisco would be deductible. The cost of your one week of business stay in San Francisco would continue deductible, though the while your pleasure stay in the second week would be non-deductible as before.

Deduct Travel

Note that if your whole combined business-pleasure trip doesn't run over a week or if the business part is more than 75 per cent of the total trip, you still will be able to deduct the entire travel expense. If you spent three days at the business convention and three days on pleasure, you could deduct your entire plane fare.

Club dues, boats, similar entertainment facilities. From 1963 on, you'll be able to deduct club dues, cost of operating boats, hunting lodges, etc., only if your expenses meet two new tests: your entertainment facilities must be used more than 50 per cent for your business purposes; if they meet this first test, they also must be "directly related to" your business.

The more than 50 per cent business use test is measured by actual use, not by availability for use. Say you have a year's membership in a golf club and use it on 30 different days. If you golfed with business customers for 16 of those 30 days and for personal reasons the other 14, you pass the more than 50 per cent use test for deducting a portion of the annual dues.

Even if you fail the more than 50 per cent test, you may deduct other qualified expenses connected with your use of entertainment facilities. For instance, if you golfed with customers on only 14 of the 30 days in the above example, you couldn't deduct any part of the year's club dues, but you could deduct the business lunch costs you paid entertaining customers on those 14 days.

Expense Outlays

Estimated expense account outlays. Up to now, a business or professional man who couldn't prove exactly how much he spent on business entertainment, travel or gifts has been allowed to deduct a reasonable estimate of these amounts under the famous Cohen rule, as developed by the courts and followed by the Treasury. But this will be out starting in 1963.

To be sure of getting your deductions, you must collect adequate records or supporting evidence for your own statements so you can prove to any agent examining your return (a) the time and place of the travel or

Financier Free on Bond After Arraignment

NEW YORK (AP)—Runaway financier Edward M. Gilbert, back from Brazil of his own accord, was free today on bond after being arraigned on both federal and New York State charges in connection with a nearly $2-million shortage in the firm he once headed.

In State Supreme Court on Monday, he pleaded "not guilty—at present," the phrasing indicating he might be hopeful of an eventual reduction in the severity of the state's 12-count indictment. He posted $10,000 bail on those charges, which accuse him of stealing as that he stole the hardwood flooring firm's funds for his own use. Earlier, Gilbert, 38, former president of the E. L. Bruce Co., bonded on the 15-count federal indictment.

Author Says South Africans No Longer Live Under Law

Everything Run in Interests Of Whites, Impartiality Gone

BY RICHARD R. KASISCHKE
DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Author Alan Paton says South Africa is so infected by fear and hatred that "We no longer live under the rule of law here."

Paton, best known abroad for his 1948 novel "Cry, the Beloved Country," was interviewed at his home at Kloof, in the hills 15 miles outside Durban.

Surveying the situation under Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd whose government now seems stronger than ever, Paton said:

Whites' Interests

"Everything here is now run in the interests of the Afrikaner people—the white people. The hal- lowed tradition of justice—impartiality—is gone here. Now the big- gest crime is to be a 'traitor to restraints of the South African government's new antisabotage law. But Paton says he believes his telephone is tapped. Some of his mail to overseas people gets strangely lost. Transatlantic tele- phone calls to his home don't seem to come through lately.

He expects to be put under some kind of house arrest, which would cripple his activities but still leave him far better off than 102 persons on the Justice Minis- try's list of banned and silenced South Africans. These people are forbidden to attend gatherings. Their statements and writings can- not be published in South Africa.

No Meetings

Paton can go to meetings, but he remarks: "The police can al- ways ban meetings—as they do—on the claim they might provoke public disorder. So, as increas- ingly happens, there's no meeting to attend."

"I can't bluff myself that I've got it hard yet," he says. "I'm fortunate that most of my income comes from abroad and as long as that continues it's OK. Many here suffer much more. They've sacrificed their business and per- sonal careers in pursuit of political beliefs that run afoul this gov- ernment. Some have had to flee to exile abroad."

Paton admits that until last year he was too optimistic about a change in South Africa's racial segregation policies.

"I'm quite certain that the color bar will be thrown out of all Afri- ca eventually. But it will take longer than I thought. South Afri- ca is the place where it will stay longest, and the length of that de- pends on the development of polit- ical stability in the rest of Africa."

Color Bar

"Still the most powerful force against this government here is the hatred of the people of Africa against the color bar. But this force can not be effective if there is no political stability elsewhere in the newly self-ruled states."

The organized white political op- position to the Verwoerd govern- ment does not amount to much.

One of the biggest reasons, Paton says, is that too many whites are "too fond of their possessions—their cheap servants, their golf, to risk sacrificing these for political changes that would bring at least multiracial rule here."

"If there were real political op- position here, plus pressure from outside, the government could have to fight on two fronts," Paton observed. "As it is now, Ver- woerd doesn't have to fight on any front at all."

Fear of Whites

"The nationalists play on the fear of the white electorate. Although this has been going on for 40 years the tactic has never been so successful as now. In the United States, the white pioneers overran the red Indians and the Indians neared the vanishing point. Here the backs continue far to out-breed their overlords.

"That fear of the black man bred the settlement days is very deep and I wouldn't say it's abating. Fear so easily turns to hatred, and you only need go to a white political meeting here to see its expression."

Iraq Plans to Buy 2 U. S. Jet Liners

the Afrikaner people" and that is interpreted by some as treason to law and order.

"If you are not 100 per cent in favor of apartheid (racial separa- tion), then you are counted as 'assisting the spread of commu- nism.' And if anybody suggests any change in the situation here, he's virtually a traitor to the state. This new charge of 'assist- ing in the spread of communism' is no joke, as many people will learn."

Paton is barred from traveling abroad. The Verwoerd govern- ment canceled his passport in De- cember 1960 on the charge that he gave "aid and comfort to the South Africa's enemies" in his speeches in the United States and elsewhere.

Still Active

Despite recent interrogations by political police, Paton continues active as a writer and also a poli- tician. He is president of the small but vocal Multiracial Lib- eral Party. It has no representation in Parliament.

3 Bus Lines Consolidate

Order Affects Iron Mountain and Green Bay Firms

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Consolidation of three inter-urban passenger bus lines, two operating out of Green Bay, and one from Iron Mountain, was approved today by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

The commission said the transfer of the operating rights of Green Bay-Wausau Lines, Inc. of Green Bay, the Wisconsin Michigan Transit Lines Co. of Iron Mountain and the Cherry Transit Co. of Green Bay to Wisconsin-Michigan Coaches, Inc. of Green Bay will improve service to the public and will probably permit a profit for the merged firm to replace near-losses of the separate carriers.

Some transfers required now for passengers using the separate lines will be eliminated, the commission said, adding that the integration is required for the perpetuation of service over a broad area of central and northeastern Wisconsin.

The consolidated company said it expects to expand its revenues through additional charter service. Economies are planned through unification of management, office and shop.

The combined net income of the three companies before taxes last year was $194, the commission record showed.

The major operating routes of the three lines were Highway 29, between Green Bay and Wausau, 141 between Green Bay and the Michigan - Wisconsin Line, Highway 22 between 141 and Gillett, Highway 32 between 29 and Cranston, Highway 160 between Pulaske and Angelica, Highway 8 between Cranston and Rhineland, Oconto County E between Highway 32 and Morgan, Oconto County C between Morgan and Oconto Falls, Highway 45 between the state line and Monico, Highway 54 between Green Bay and Algoma, Highway 42 between Algoma and Sturgeon Bay, and Highway 57 between 54 and 42.

Psychiatrists Attend Meeting of State Association

Several Fox Cities psychiatrists attended the meeting of the Wisconsin Psychiatric Association in Sheboygan last weekend.

Attending from the Fox Cities were Dr. George Arndt and Dr. Harry Colgan of Neenah, and Dr. Denton Engstrom, Dr. Keith Keane and Dr. Joseph Weisler of Appleton.

Dr. Ervin Teplin and Dr. Herbert Lazarus, both of Milwaukee, led the discussion of group therapy at the meeting, with interest centered on the effectiveness of this type of therapy. One of the key advantages of group therapy, the doctors said, is that it enables more patients to receive help at much lower cost per patient.

Dr. George Andrews, Wausau, spoke to the group on Dr. Albert Schweitzer, whom he visited in Africa for a week last year. Dr. Andrews noted Dr. Schweitzer's life-long interest in psychiatry and related this to his over-all reverence for life.

The association received a proposal to study the role of the psychiatrist and of organized psychiatry in the present world conflict, including the arms race and the search for means of establishing peace in the world. A committee will make recommendations on this proposal at a later date.

Other officers elected were Walter W. Hipp, vice president. Re-elected were Cornelius F. Crowe, secretary, and Charles Huesman Jr., treasurer.

Wausau, Green Lake and Fond du Lac Counties was also transferred to the new company which has its headquarters at 725 Smith St., Green Bay.

Objections Voiced to Phases Of 1963 Winnebago Budget

Citizen Calls for Reappraising 'Hogwild' Department of Welfare

OSHKOSH — Three persons appeared at the public hearing on the proposed 1963 Winnebago County budget at the county board this morning.

"We should substitute 'our tax payers money' for the term 'department of welfare,'" Hughes urged.

Earl Hughes, route 1, Neenah; and Norman Pfeiffer, route 2, Oshkosh. Support of the guidance center program was urged by particularly in the aid to dependent children program. Not one of the board of directors for the county gets such aid or how much they get. Hughes called for a reappraisal. It's a deep dark secret. Now they are talking about a home-maker program," he went on.

"We also need a reappraisal of the county agent program. We are getting more urbanized and they are telling women how to raise flowers and people how to raise rabbits. And up on Main Street there is an office that pays farmers for growing less," Hughes said in reference to the county ASC office.

Pfeiffer, who is building an 18-hole golf course on State 175, south of Oshkosh, objected to the county planning to build a golf course. "There are 700 acres available now for private recreation in golf courses and the county should not go into competition with private industry," he contended.

CD Head Hits Lack Of 'Real Concern'

Winnebago Director Criticizes County Board for Complacency

OSHKOSH — County Civil Defense Director George Oaks said it was silly or not. "Why wait for a nuclear bomb before you do something. The people of the County Board for its lack of 'real concern' for civil defense guidance."

Oaks said that the ground work has been established but there is much more work to be done. "This will cost you some money. We have been able to get Oshkosh off dead center and rolling. It took two years to do this job. Mayor Klein of Menasha has promised me he will get going. "You have to have a training program for every department involved. You will have to bring you can get a new director. I in trained instructors from outside and that will cost. It is necessary for me to ask for more money. I have lived within my budget in the past." Oaks indicated defense no matter if they thought cated.

Hammermill Buys Marathon Oswego Plant

Final Details Remain To be Completed, but Transaction Okayed

OSWEGO — Purchase of the converting and warehousing buildings here of Marathon Division of American Can Co. by Hammermill was reported Tuesday by the Associated Press. The purchase price was not revealed but was reported to be approximately $500,000.

Victor S. Oakes, manager of Hammermill's Oswego division, said final details of the transaction remain to be completed but agreement on the deal had been reached by officials of the two companies.

Marathon Division last week announced its plan to discontinue Oswego operations by mid-1963. Marathon moved to Oswego in 1951. Hammermill purchased the paper mill section of the Marathon plant in 1960. Marathon cut back Oswego converting plant production facilities in 1961 and switched to a letterpress plant. Marathon employment was 280 persons last week when shutdown plans were announced. Hammermill employs 136 persons in its paper mill operation there.

Marathon Announces Making Of Two Key Appointments

NEENAH — Two key appointments affecting Marathon Division of American Can Co. research and development personnel become effective Thursday.

Willard I. Stinger, former manager of the research and development division's pulp and paper department, becomes assistant to the director of corporate research and development. He will, for the time being, continue to maintain his office at Neenah.

His successor at Marathon is Gordon N. Matson, who was pulp and paper senior group leader. Associated with Marathon since 1937, Stinger had been supervisor of pulp, paper and converting research for two years when he was transferred from Rothschild to Neenah in 1957. He began with Marathon as a research chemist, subsequently serving as chemical process engineering group leader and as supervisor of the pulp and paper section at Rothschild.

Since 1937 Stinger is a 1937 chemical engineering graduate of the University of Minnesota. A member of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry since 1949, he was chairman of TAPPI's Lake States Section in 1961. He has been a member of the American Chemical Society since 1937.

Matson, who joined Marathon in 1950 as a chemical engineer in materials engineering, later served as a project leader in central manufacturing engineering. When transferred to research and development in 1955, he served successively as a pulp and paper process engineer and as a process engineering group leader.

Winnebago Grants 103 Divorces

OSHKOSH — Divorces and annulments granted during the 12-month period up to Oct. 1 totaled 103 while the number of cases filed during that period came to 198, according to the report of the family court commissioner's office Tuesday afternoon to the Winnebago County Board.

Serving in that post during the last year were James G. Sarres from Oct. 1, 1961, to June 1, the late William M. Gengler, and Silas L. Spengler who took over the office upon the death this summer of Gengler.

Alimony and support money paid through the clerk of courts office during the 12-month period came to $507,752 which is an increase of $34,586 over that for the previous year.

The three family court commissioners reported they had held 445 individual reconciliation conferences and 154 joint conferences in attempts to effect reconciliation.

Deadline Set to Pay Special Assessments

KAUKAUNA — Residents receiving statements for special assessments on curb and gutter, paving and sidewalk work have through Thursday to pay assessments at the city clerk's office, thus avoiding interest charges, according to Karl E. Marzahl, city clerk.

Interest rate on special assessments is five per cent and assessment charge not paid will be added to the tax roll, indicated the clerk. Persons not notified on special assessments will not be assessed interest charges this year.

Anemia, Leukemia, Mononucleosis Differ

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. ferent types, acute or chronic; or difference between mononucleosis, anemia and leukemia? I know that all have something to do with the blood. If you have a check-up and a blood count, how long can you rely on the results? — W.B.

They all are blood diseases, but they are detected by different types of tests. Blood may be tested for some single purpose, or it may undergo a variety of tests so the last question you ask is unanswerable without knowing whether you had a simple or an elaborate examination.

Mononucleosis, which has no relation to anemia or leukemia, is an infectious disease which reflects itself in a predominance of a type of white cell called a mononuclear cell. A test called a "heterophile reaction" is used, and it has a high quotient of accuracy.

Anemia, on the other hand, may be a deficiency in iron—the red cells don't carry enough of it, or there may be a deficiency of red cells. Pernicious anemia, for example, occurs because not enough red cells are being formed. Hemolytic anemia means cells are being destroyed too rapidly, or that some chronic blood loss can be draining cells away.

Test is Simple

Determining the presence of anemia is a simple enough test, but simply discovering exactly what type of it is present requires more elaborate tests.

Leukemia, unlike anemia, is a disease of the white cells. The cells increase in number all out of proportion. Again there are different types, acute or chronic; or difference between mononucleosis, anemia and leukemia? I know that all have something to do with the blood. If you have a check-up and a blood count, how long can you rely on the results? — W.B.

They all are blood diseases, but they are detected by different types of tests. Blood may be tested for some single purpose, or it may undergo a variety of tests so the last question you ask is unanswerable without knowing whether you had a simple or an elaborate examination.

Mononucleosis, which has no relation to anemia or leukemia, is an infectious disease which reflects itself in a predominance of a type of white cell called a mononuclear cell. A test called a "heterophile reaction" is used, and it has a high quotient of accuracy.

Anemia, on the other hand, may be a deficiency in iron—the red cells don't carry enough of it, or there may be a deficiency of red cells. Pernicious anemia, for example, occurs because not enough red cells are being formed. Hemolytic anemia means cells are being destroyed too rapidly, or that some chronic blood loss can be draining cells away.

Test is Simple

Determining the presence of anemia is a simple enough test, but simply discovering exactly what type of it is present requires more elaborate tests.

Leukemia, unlike anemia, is a disease of the white cells. The cells increase in number all out of proportion. Again there are dif-

Anybody Want a River Steamer?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—If you need a paddlewheel river steamer, you're in luck. The Memphis district of the Corps of Engineers has one for sale.

Col. Edmund Kirby-Smith said Monday the hulk of the decommissioned steamer Mississippi will be sold Nov. 28 to the highest bidder—on an "as is, where is" basis.

The big old sternwheeler has been berthed at the Memphis waterfront since she was taken out of service in April 1961. In favor of a Diesel-powered boat.

Fire Siren Scores Family Into Basement

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—At the sound of a siren in the pre-dawn darkness, an alert Memphis mother woke her husband, two children and the dog.

They hustled to a basement shelter well-stocked with emergency supplies.

The mother, who prefers to remain anonymous, hurriedly flicked on a portable radio to hear the news. After 10 minutes of rock 'n' roll music in the dark, she realized the siren had been from a passing fire truck.

The state board team will conduct a general evaluation of the state of arts degree to students, school and community Nov. 28. Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duval, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duval, Ph.D.

ARE MASCULINE TRAITS MAINLY INBORN?
YES ☐ NO ☐

No. They are mainly learned, from culture to culture. What in and learned slowly. In learning them well, the boy needs a good father (or father figure) who can identify. He needs parents who give him support, do not push him too hard. The father who wants his son to excel in sports, rather than to enjoy them, or who is always disappointed because the boy did not do better, may actually be causing not only anxieties, but turning the boy into a "sissy".

Do we "speak" only with words? Yes— No—
No. It has long been recognized that we speak with our eyes and our smiles. The actor speaks through his facial expressions and his gestures, more than through his lines. And, as with words, the meanings of gestures can vary.

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

With No Cash Conversion This Is No Big Bargain!

DEAR CY: Bargains are something I can't pass up. When they involve making money, my sales resistance slips even lower.

A man offered me several cases of styrofoam in assorted shapes and sizes for "Practically nothing." All I could reply was "How much?" So now, I have an estimated 50 pounds of styrofoam. The most predominant shape is a half moon, about 12 inches in diameter. Do you have any suggestion for parlaying this into some money rather than contacting a boat builder, and selling it lock, stock and barrel for buoyancy... and for less than I paid?

STYROPHANT: Unless you can make a cash conversion, you haven't a bargain. Do this: Sell your styrofoam in single units to the public. Be patient until December. Then jumble display your load on a Christmas tree lot. Mark it "Special Purchase. Make your own Christmas ornaments and decorations! Your choice, — cents each." Show glittering samples of what don't yourselfers can easily create. Yes, you'll have to spill the Christmas tree operator but you could enjoy a green backed Christmas.

DEAR CY: I read where ex-Secretary of Labor Goldberg said office work will rapidly become increasingly automated. He cited where electronic machines will take over most paper work in offices, replacing thousands of workers. In his words, "Those who handle routine work can expect to find their jobs changed or abolished."

I am one of those he is referring to and would like to join the forces of the future. What level of education is needed to operate the machines that are replacing the workers? As a man would I earn more working an office machine than women operators working alongside of me?

ENTERPRISING: Office machine operator is the speediest growing clerical career. Except for the most routine office machine jobs, graduation from business school or high school is the minimum requirement. A recent study by the U. S. Department of Labor showed where men employed as tabulating machine operators earned, on the average, $5.50 to $8 a week more than women doing similar work. More fuel for girls crusading for equal pay.

DEAR CY: Being a reader and sometime contributor of hints to your column, I was interested in what you said about correspondence schools. In your mention of correspondence schools for motel training, you didn't print International Correspondence Schools. This is the name that first comes to my mind when I think of this type of education and I think you should have mentioned them. What is wrong? Have they dropped from public favor? My reason for asking this is that I would eventually like to own a motel, and would like to work at one first. Before getting a job at a motel, I would like to take a training course by correspondence from International Correspondence Schools.

H. GOLD

DEAR MR. GOLD: A year ago it would have been rare if I received two correspondence school questions in a day. Last night however, I had to strap on creepers to clamber over the correspondence school inquiries and struggle home. This means the "Buck Badgers" are changing to clean neckties and reading plans to cash in on the increased interest in correspondence education. Beware! International Correspondence Schools is not one of these. It rates highly, among correspondence schools. ICS is the oldest (since 1891) and the largest (almost 150,000 active students). It does not offer a motel training course.

Nason on Education

Discouraged Students Are Not Stupid; They Lack Confidence

BY LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

One of the sorriest tragedies for any parent or teacher is the sight of a student losing belief in his own ability.

More often than not such a belief has no basis in fact. But even if founded on insufficient or incorrect evidence, it can still do a world of harm unless steps are taken promptly. Such a case was presented to me in the following letter.

Dear Dr. Nason:

My nephew is 21 years old. After graduating from high school he made two tries at junior colleges, dropping out each time due to lack of success. He now has a menial job and appears to have lost interest in bettering himself. What can you suggest?

H. E., Long Beach, Calif.

Answer:

At this point your nephew undoubtedly considers himself too stupid to learn. This, of course, is not the true picture. He needs to renew his faith in his own ability. I have known young men in similar situations who have gained confidence by starting over with a very elementary course in a subject like math. In some cases it has taken as long as one or two years. But eventually, they were not only successful in the one course but successful in reestablishing their own ego.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I have a child entering high school who reads well and enjoys it, but cannot spell worth a dime. In a test she does all right, but don't ask her the same words a few weeks later. I have had this same problem all my life and so am at a loss to know how to help her.

(Signed) "Two peas in a pod"

Answer:

When spelling words are learned for the sole purpose of passing a test this knowledge does not become a part of one's permanent working knowledge.

Have your daughter practice writing sentences including those words which she intends to remember. She should correct writing exercises and letters or spelling, then if necessary, rewrite them.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I have thoroughly enjoyed your articles. Now I would be very grateful if you could answer an important question. How can I learn to want to study?

C. P., Salt Lake City

Answer:

Setting aside a time and place for study is not enough. Students who plan how they are going to study each course and have in mind what they are going to do at the start of a study period are more likely to actually study than those who wait until the study hour to make these decisions.

You may have to consciously make such plans for every study period for quite a long time.

Moses' Tomb Thought Unearthed in Jordan

Expedition Finds Large Pyramid Near Amman Dating to Bronze Age

BY SPIRO ELIASA
AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A South American archaeological expedition has unearthed a pyramid in the wilderness, about 21 miles south of Amman, which it believes is associated with Moses. The pyramid — about 140 feet high with walls 66 feet wide — is the biggest single structure ever unearthed in Trans-Jordan or Canaan. It was discovered by a Venezuelan expedition led by Prof. Julio Ripamonti, of the Venezuela Central University. Ripamonti holds the Associated Press that the pyramid dates to the late Bronze Age, around 1250 B.C. Inside is another smaller building, and in between the two are 12 small chambers which he believes may represent the 12 tribes of Israel. Ripamonti said the outer pyramid was built with walls six feet thick. Jerusalem Viewed From the top of the pyramid facing west it was possible to view Jerusalem and Bethlehem in the distance. Ripamonti believes Moses' tomb may be found under the pyramid or in one of the rooms. Excavations will resume next August. South of the pyramid a sizable cave with a lined ceiling was found. In it were bronze — age pottery and human skulls and bones. Inside the cave is a tunnel in the direction of the pyramid, leading to a bigger cave — still unexcavated. East of the pyramid an olive press or wine press was unearthed to indicate that the now barren area was cultivated 3,000 years ago. The professor conducted Jordan's King Hussein around his discovery. Ripamonti showed Hussein large pieces of wood of all types used in pyramid building, including bamboo in a wonderful state of preservation. A huge rock basin and a stone with an undecipherable inscription also were discovered. Next to the mountain is a deep ravine known today as Wadi Afarit, (Devil's Ravine.) "This was my first clue," Ripamonti said, "because according to Jude of the new testament, Moses' body was disputed between the Archangel Michael and the Devil." Ripamonti has not found Angel Valley but in the vicinity there is today a Wadi Dnayas (Churches Valley). Ripamonti said that if the pyramid was not Moses' tomb, it might be a memorial to mark the site where Moses first saw the promised land, or to mark the place where he died.

This is an Architect's Sketch of proposed additions to St. Matthew Lutheran School. Contracts totaling $74,544 have been approved for a three-room addition, including two classrooms and a principal's office. The sketch shows the present school in the upper right, and the three-room addition, to be completed in March, below it. The plans also include an addition, shown in the upper left of the sketch, with an all-purpose room or gymnasium, kitchen, stage, lockers and shower rooms, dressing rooms and boiler room, which the congregation hopes to build within two years. The new classroom addition will be constructed so that two classrooms can easily be added when needed in the future. These would be to the left of the new classrooms and below the proposed gymnasium addition. (Sketch by George G. Narovec Associates, Inc.)

St. Matthew Lutheran Accepts Bid Of $74,544 for School Addition

Appleton Church Will Construct Two Rooms, Principal's Office by March

Members of the St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday accepted bids totaling $74,544 for construction of a three-room addition to their present school.

The addition will include two 28 by 32 foot classrooms and a principal's office. Expansion plans for the present school have been underway for more than two years. The addition is to be completed during March, 1963.

The addition is designed with a corridor so that an additional two classrooms can be added when needed in the future without too great an additional cost.

Plans for Gymnasium

Also included in the plans were drawings for an 85 by 106 foot gymnasium or all-purpose room. The congregation hopes to have the all-purpose room built within the next two years.

The addition for the all-purpose room also would include boys' and girls' shower and locker rooms, a larger kitchen, a stage, dressing rooms, storage rooms and a boiler room which will service the entire school system.

Plans for the building additions were drawn by the George G. Narovec Associates Inc., Appleton architects.

Bids Let

Contracts have been let for construction of the two additional classrooms and office to A. W. Jeske Construction Co., Oshkosh, as general contractor, King Electric Co., Appleton, as electrical contractor, E. J. Rupp Plumbing and Heating Co., Neenah, as heating and ventilating contractor, and Angermeyer Plumbing and Heating Co., Neenah, as plumbing contractor.

The St. Matthew school system began in the early 1920s with a one room school for eight grades, which continued until 1954 when the present three-room school was completed. Since then the school population has outgrown the present capacity of 105 pupils.

The enrollment this year is near 120 and provisions had to be made to add a teacher and have one classroom in the basement of the church. The school now has four teachers.

At the present rate of increase in student enrollment the new addition will be filled within a few years.

Woman Reports Robbery Attempt

OSHKOSH—Winnebago County authorities are investigating a reported attempted robbery of a Town of Nepeuskum woman Wednesday night.

According to the Winnebago County Sheriff's Department, an intruder entered the home of Mrs. Nellie Morrissey, route 3, Ripon, and allegedly beat her and attempted to make her tell him where she had her money hidden. After locking Mrs. Morrissey in the basement, the intruder left, apparently without obtaining money.

Condition of Oskey Better

Victim of Beating Will be Questioned Further by Police

Frank Oskey, 49, 216 S. Badger Ave., a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital since early Sunday morning when he was severely beaten behind an Appleton tavern is in improved condition today, hospital authorities said.

Oskey has been questioned by Appleton police who plan to question him further in regard to the beating. Oskey's injuries are described as possible fractures to the ribs, skull and elbow.

The man was found lying in the alley in the 500 block of W. College Avenue by Appleton police who rushed him to the hospital.

During a brief questioning period Sunday afternoon, Oskey said he had gone to Carl's Tap, 523 W. College Ave. about 9 p.m. He got into an argument with two men. The three men went into the alley where Oskey said he was struck and kicked.

Oskey, a beer truck driver, recently spent six months in the Milwaukee House of Correction for falsely stating on a marriage license that he was divorced.

His Appleton wife died Jan. 15, a week before he married Mrs. Ann Scurry, 34, a Milwaukee Negro. The first Mrs. Oskey died of a drug intoxication and was the subject of a coroner's inquest in March.

Oskey told police Sunday the argument which led to his beating was based on his association with Negroes.

Lutheran Group To Meet Again

The second in a series of organizational meetings for the new Missouri Synod Lutheran congregation at 2219 E. College Ave. will be held at the church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Ewald Lust, temporary chairman of the group, will conduct the meeting.

Among the items of business will be the selection of a name for the congregation.

Plans also will be made for the first worship service and Sunday school session scheduled for Nov. 18.

The Rev. H. P. Hulgendorf, pastor, said the meeting is open to all interested persons.

Service to Youth

Fox Cities Men Are Given Awards

Silver Beaver awards for outstanding service to youth were presented to three men at the Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, annual recognition dinner in New London, Tuesday. They were John P. Reeve and Richard Loescher, both of Appleton, and Glen Vandehey, Kimberly.

Reeve is traveling in Europe on a business trip, and his award was accepted by his wife. The Silver Beaver committee made arrangements with a business companion traveling with Reeve to open an envelope informing him that he had received the award Tuesday evening in Europe.

Award Secret

The Silver Beaver award, kept a secret until the presentation, has been given by the Valley Council to 39 men since 1931, in addition to those receiving the award for 1962. A number of those holding the award attended and took part in the ceremony Tuesday.

Members of the Valley Council executive board who also are holders of the Silver Beaver award read the citations and made the presentation to the new recipients.

Oliver Wordell, Brillion, a past president of the Valley Council, read the citation for Vandehey, and James Bamberg, Kaukauna, presented the award.

Vandehey, 1032 Adams Place, Kimberly, was an Eagle Scout and assistant scoutmaster of Troop 31, Holy Cross parish, Kaukauna, before working on district and Council activities. He has served as scout commissioner, and helped in organizing new units, directing training courses, and working in camp promotion. He was East District chairman in 1960 and now is a member of the Valley Council executive board.

Quartet Work

Vandehey also has been active in organizing and working with a local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, and is cur-

Ralph Suess, Menasha, read the citation for Loescher, and Edward Bankert, Little Chute, presented the award to him.

Loescher entered scouting in Troop 9, Menasha, then sponsored by the Menasha Woodmenware Corp., attaining the rank of Eagle with gold and silver palm.

Finance Decision Downs Chances for Bookmobile

Appleton Board Seems Unable to Stop Tax Rate Hike

$5.86 Boost in Rates Possible If All Departments Are Satisfied

Appleton taxpayers can start bracing for an increased tax rate in 1963.

In two nights of meetings, the council's budget examining committee has been unable to make any notable dents in the requests of department heads for next year.

Budget requests from all departments, boards and agencies total $9,453,604 and represent a $5.86 boost in the tax rate.

"The way things look we will be lucky if we can cut that tax rate figure in half," observed one official today in reference to the $5.86 figure.

Ald. Alvin Tews, chairman of the council's finance committee, said today that he thought the budget examiners were "operating on a par" with previous years. However, Tews indicated a major problem existed in the area of salaries, and he expressed hope the personnel committee would come up with a recommendation before the end of the week.

Increases Asked

The personnel committee reported recently "almost everyone" in city government wants merit increases. The committee got a consensus from the common council that an across-the-board percentage salary increase should be granted city employees instead of blanket merit hikes.

A 2 to 3 per cent blanket increase has been mentioned on different occasions by some aldermen.

To date, the finance committee has been deleting merit increases from the budget requests but realizes that additional sums will have to be put back in should the common council officially vote the percentage salary increases.

Commenting on budgets that have been reviewed by his committee Tews said, "Things are pretty tight. We have been dealing with areas of the budget in which you can't do too much in the way of cutting."

Two major budgets before the committee have been those of the fire and police departments. Another major budget yet to be reviewed is that of the board of public works. Tews emphasized these budgets involve services which the public expects.

Hearing Scheduled

At 7 p.m. today the finance committee will hold a hearing on the board of education budget which totals $3,945,229 and calls for a tax levy of $3,222.160. The budget of the school board is up close to a half million dollars.

Another important meeting will be in progress at city hall at the same time when the personnel committee convenes to discuss the general city employee salary situation.

The finance committee hopes to wind up its hearings by the end of the week, according to Tews, but will be unable to do so if no recommendation is received from the personnel committee.

In recent years, the major cuts in the budget requests have been made at a meeting of the council as a whole. That meeting will be scheduled in the near future.

Appleton Committee Decides Against Library Request, but Approves Budget of $172,370

The Appleton Public Library will not have a bookmobile in 1963, the city finance committee decided Tuesday night during its second session of budget hearings.

The committee cut $41,000 from the library's request after committee chairman Alvin Tews said, "there are some things which we need to have and some things which are nice to have."

"The things we need to have come first," he said. Other aldermen serving on the committee agreed that there has been no great demand for a bookmobile.

However, the remainder of the $172,370 request was approved, minus $2,270 in merit salary increases.

The Finance Committee is deleting merit salary increase requests from all departmental budgets until they receive a recommendation from the Personnel Committee tonight on across the board wage increases for all city employees.

For the second night in a row, Fire Chief Roland L. Kuehl appeared before the committee to answer questions on the Fire Department's budget.

As on Monday night, the discussion was centered around Kuehl's $18,000 request for an emergency rescue truck.

Generally, members of the committee agreed to the need for the truck, but since delivery couldn't be expected until late 1963, decided to cut $10,000 off the request for next year, and appropriate the balance in 1964.

An additional $1,412 for a new stove and kitchen supplies was sliced. Members of the committee also refused $3,000 not requested in the original budget for a circulating fan at the No. 1 fire station.

Final approval was given to $510,743 in requests for 1963.

The Welfare Department budget was cut by $380 in travel expenses, but an additional $100 was added to materials and supplies for a net cut of $280. The $2,416 sought for merit pay increases also was cut, pending the personnel committee decision, leaving $84,691 in the entire request which was approved.

Together with the Welfare Department, the $62,329 City Home budget also was approved.

Director Praised

Members of the committee were full of praise for Welfare Director Morton Ehrliche for his efficiency in handling his department. They pointed to the $9,000 lower request for his department and the overall improvement in efficiency in his first year as welfare director.

Nine other requests were approved Tuesday night, with merit pay increases temporarily out aside for seven city departments.

Included were: plumbing inspector, $15,485; building inspector, $10,871.50; heating inspector, $6,410; scaler of weights and measures, $9,300; city attorney, $7,730; city assessor, $31,145; and city treasurer, $23,435.

In addition, budgets of $32,000 for the firemen's pension fund and $13,000 for the police pension fund were approved.

Green Bay Man Dies In Louisiana Hotel

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — R. W. Dekeyser, 38, of Green Bay, Wis., was found dead in a hotel room here Saturday.

The deputy coroner ruled death to natural causes. The body was discovered after a hotel maid tried to open the door and found it chain locked from the inside. She notified the manager.

Power Firm Ruling Upheld

Judge Parnell's Decision Termed Correct by State

Circuit Court Judge Andrew W. Parnell this week was upheld by the state supreme court in a decision he rendered in a Columbia County case brought by the Wisconsin Power and Light Co.

The power company claimed a road re-located by Columbia County caused pressure on a power transmission tower and forced the tower out of alignment destroying its usefulness.

The firm contended location of the road and placing of fill caused the ground to bulge forcing the tower out of position.

The county, when it was notified of the damage to the tower changed the location of the road. This it did several times.

Judge Parnell ruled the main issue in the company's damage suit was whether there was legal responsibility on the part of the county for damages.

Parnell ruled there was no negligence on the defendant's part. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court and Parnell's decision upheld.

Molly Picon in 60th Year of Show Business

Great Yiddish Theater Actress
Embarks on New Triple Career

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Next year will mark my 60th year in show business," said Molly Picon, who doesn't look it.

"And this year I marked three firsts in my career—my first Broadway musical, my first book and my first Hollywood movie. So I guess you can say life begins at 60."

Molly is a gentle-voiced woman who brought luster to the Yiddish theater in America. She is normally quiet in manner, but when she gets onstage—watch out. She can mug, sing, dance, crack jokes and steal scenes like a regular Becky James.

Frank Sinatra figured she was just the one to play his mother in his new comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn." So she's here now, walking to work at Paramount studios.

Likes to Walk
Walking? She's walking at Chateau Marmont, a good seven or eight miles from Paramount.

"Yes, walking," she confirmed. "Nobody else walks in this town, but I do. I like to walk; it keeps me in shape. The only trouble is that the sidewalks keep disappearing in this town. Something should be done about that."

"My husband (Jacob Kahan) and I keep busy while waiting for me to get a call. We walk. We've been to every little theater in town and most of the restaurants; that's why we have to walk. We've been to Disneyland, which we loved, and Frank Sinatra flew us up to Las Vegas in his private plane. Now that's really living."

Long Way Up
Molly has come a long way from New York's East Side. Her mother was a wardrobe woman in theaters, and Molly was appearing in plays by the time she was 5—"they had a lot of orphans in the plays they did in those days, so there was always a part for me."

She bounced in and out of vaudeville until her future husband spotted her as a promising talent. He wrote a play for her to star in at a Yiddish theater. Her costar was another young player named Paul Muni.

Molly became the darling of the Yiddish stage. She played regular vaudeville and Broadway plays, and her loyal fans would follow her uptown.

Last season she went into her

They're leaving room for late developments.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 11) — Going My Way has a pleasant story this week, with Anne Francis playing an innocent young thing who doesn't realize her power over men. Carroll, try to help her but it isn't easy to curtail nature.

Co-Op Manager Lashes Out Against 'Cocktail Economists'

15,000 Hear Pure Milk Officer Blame JFK for Price Cuts

BY HAROLD KURTZ
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

FOND DU LAC — Hard criticism of "cocktail economists" who want to solve the farm problem for selfish reasons was voiced here Tuesday by William Eckles, general manager of the Pure Milk Products Cooperative. Eckles spoke at the 33rd annual convention of the 15,000 member milk producers.

"Too many with selfish motives have taken on the job of offering panacea formulas for correcting the situation of abundant production," Eckles said in his annual report.

Eckles recommended continued government price supports but stressed the need to balance production with consumption. He recommended direct payment to farmers as a means of reducing production.

Research Urged

He also called for more marketing research and the finding of additional uses for agricultural products.

Eckles laid the blame for milk support drops on President Kennedy when he said "as a result

3 Fox Cities Men Honored By Boy Scouts

He served on the committee of Sea Scout Ship 3, Menasha, and later was skipper of Ship 11, then sponsored by the Appleton Lions Club.

He has been scoutmaster of Troop 5, St. Therese parish, Appleton, troop committee chairman, and institutional representative for his parish. He brought about the establishment of a second troop and a second pack in St. Therese parish.

In 1959 Loescher was appointed by the Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Bona, bishop of the Green Bay Diocese, as lay chairman of the Valley Council Catholic Committee on scouting. In this position he helped secure official recognition of scouting by the bishop and the official appointment of a diocesan committee. The Green Bay Diocese recognized his contribution to the church and scouting by presenting to him the St. George Award.

Loescher was a member of the Tri-Cities District committee and chairman of the district nominating committee. Since June he has been scout commissioner of the Valley Council.

Chris G. Larsen, Appleton, read the citation for Reeve, and Robert Rogers, chairman of the Valley Council camp conservation committee, made the presentation.

Supports Scouting

Reeve, president of the Appleton Coated Paper Co., was honored in the citation for his efforts in attracting the services of other leaders in business and industry in support of scouting. He has been a member of the Valley Council executive board since 1952, was chairman of the personnel committee, and was Valley Council president in 1960 and 1961.

Reeve also has worked for the Appleton United Community Services and other community fund-raising projects. He now is president of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, and has served on the board of the Appleton YMCA and Camp Manitowish Committee, on the board of trustees of the First Congregational Church, as a trustee at Lawrence College and as a member of the board of directors of the Fox Valley Sheltered Workshop.

Oshkosh Pastor Talks at Rally

Advocates Return To Scriptures in Contemporary Times

"What the churches, the country, the world needs above all is a generation that searches the Scriptures daily and diligently, believes it implicitly and entirely, teaches it courageously and uncompromisingly," the Rev. Harold Kleinhaus of Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran Church, Oshkosh, said in Appleton Sunday.

He addressed a Reformation rally of 1,500 persons from Appleton Wisconsin Synod churches in the Lawrence College Memorial Chapel.

A chorus of 375 children sang at the service, and the student chorus of Fox Valley Lutheran High School also sang. The Rev. Frederick Thierfelder, pastor of Riverview Lutheran Church, was liturgist.

"Wonderful Age"

"We are living in a wonderful age in which man has succeeded in launching out into orbit, soaring high into the heavens," Pastor Kleinhaus said. "But there is only one way in which man can reach God, and that is by accepting and believing the Bible and its teachings."

"As Christians, we must preserve God's word for our children," he went on. "The children of today are the church of tomorrow. In this highly favored land in which children and youth have opportunities and advantages unknown to former generations, we must beware not to offer them starvation rations of the Word of God."

Girl Star No Stranger to Former Little Chute Seabee

LITTLE CHUTE — Patsy Li, a Chinese girl featured on the television show "To Tell The Truth" Monday night, is well known to Willard Van Handel of this village.

The girl was on a Chinese ship sunk by the Japanese when she was five years old. She was found by a group of American servicemen after drifting between 400 and 500 miles in the Pacific Ocean on a piece of wreckage. How she survived, no one knows and the girl herself is unable to recall.

She was brought to shore in the Netherlands East Indies to a Catholic priest, the Rev. Francis Gehring, who was serving as a chaplain for the 60th Seabees, a unit in which Van Handel was chief petty officer. He took a picture of the Chinese girl and several years after the war sent the picture to Find Mother

The Chinese girl was cared for by missionaries and later came to the United States to study. She was reunited with her mother in this country and her real name was found to be Li although Father Gehring had given the girl that name which meant, "Child of God," when the 5-year-old was unable to recall her name.

The priest recently had a book entitled "Child of Miracles" published which deals with the experiences of Patsy Li. He is now stationed at St. John's University, New York, and corresponds regularly with Van Handel. The latter after seeing the show recognized the girl immediately and exclaimed, "It really is a small, small world."

National Congress Attended By Teen-Age Safety Club

Four officers of the Outagamie County Teen-Age Safety Council, representing the adult council Mrs. Mary Weyenberg, secretary, and William D. Schoenberger, adult advisor to the teen group.

The Teen-Age Safety Council, the only one of its kind in Wisconsin, operates independently of the county's Safety Council, and devotes its efforts toward safety education in the high schools to promote accident prevention in the schools, homes and in traffic.

More than 12,000 delegates are expected to attend this year's Golden Anniversary Congress sponsored by the National Safety Council from Monday to Friday to exchange ideas and views on accident prevention, health, hygiene and fire protection. They will hear more than 900 speakers in some 400 separate sessions.

The seriousness of their discussions is pointed up by the Council's estimate that the accident toll claimed 91,500 lives, brought disabling injuries to 9,300,000, and cost America $14.5 billion in 1961.

Beside the Congress meetings, some 250 educational and commercial exhibitors are showing the latest safety equipment in more than 350 booths in the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said the Outagamie County Teen-Age Safety Council represents an encouraging sign of the increasing awareness of the importance of accident prevention on the part of the nation's youth.

Tardy Parking Fines May be Raised by $1

Parking violators who wait longer than 72 hours to pay their fines may get an extra dollar tacked onto the one dollar fine if the common council goes along with a recommendation by Police Chief Earl O. Wolff.

Wolff appeared before the public safety committee at city hall Tuesday night to make the request.

He said it costs the department about 25 to 30 cents in postage, supplies, record keeping and clerical costs for every followup on about 1,000 violators each month.

Sometime it is necessary to send two or three followup letters to a parking violator, Wolff said, and the extra one dollar penalty would discourage delays in paying the fines.

The committee went along with the chief's recommendation and will make the proposal at the next council meeting.

Earnings Rise For Airline

North Central Shows 200 Per Cent Hike Over 1961 Figure

North Central Airlines reports record net earnings of $470,560 for the first nine months of 1962, according to Hal N. Carr, president. This is nearly 200 per cent more than the entire year of 1961, when the company earned $157,750.

The sharp increase in earnings, said Carr, results from record passenger and cargo revenues combined with greater efficiency of operation. He also stated that with the continual addition of Convair aircraft and further improvements in its route structure, North Central can now anticipate the best financial growth in the company's history.

System revenues for the Minneapolis - St. Paul-based carrier for the first nine months were up 7.4 per cent to $20,671,779 from $19,253,998 for the same period last year.

Carr stated that he expects a profitable fourth quarter to further increase the earnings for 1962.

Xavier Wraps Up Second Title, 22nd Straight Win

Hawks Score First Seven Times They Get Ball in 40-13 Victory Over Pennings

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Powerful Xavier closed out its most successful season in its young history Tuesday night by thumping DePere Abbot Pennings 40-13, at Goodland Field.

Coach Gene "Torchy" Clark's Hawks capitalized on a Pennings gamble early in the first period and went on to score then and the next six times they had the ball.

Pennings received the opening kickoff and picked up 9 yards on three downs, forcing a fourth-and-one situation on the Squires 40-yard line. Steve Nicks tried for the needed yardage on a quarterback sneak but was stopped by the whole interior of line coach Harry Nelson's pride and joy.

The "dream" backfield of Tom Peeters, Kip Whittinger, and Rocky Bleier, all took turns in logging the leather and marched the 40 yards in six plays. Whittinger hustled over right tackle for the touchdown.

Bleier Scores

The next time the Hawks got their hands on the ball, it took them only three plays. Xavier took over on its own 34 and a Bleier-to-Whittinger lateral play picked up 46 yards to the Pennings 20. Bleier cut in sharply for five and then ran a reverse for the final 15 yards.

The third TD came on a 55-yard march with Bleier accounting for 39 yards on four tries, including the final jaunt of 13. The fourth marker came on a 57-yard drive with all-state candidate quarterback Dick Wiesner taking over the controls.

Wiesner flipped a 12-yard pass to Whittinger and another 22-yarder to Dick Boots in the offensive. Peeters finally went over from the one. Wiesner also booted two of the four conversion attempts to give the Hawks a 26-0 advantage.

Pennings came back with a drive of its own to make the halftime score read, Xavier 26, Pennings 6. The drive went 60 yards with Nicks accounting for 52 yards on three pass completions. Nicks found Ralph Rottier for the final seven yards and the score.

Diving Catch

Xavier marched 64 yards with the second half kickoff. It took 11 plays with the key play a 12-yard pass from Wiesner to Bleier. Bleier had to make a diving catch at the one-yard line to

Taylor Holds Firm as NFL Rushing Leader

Title Climbs to Second Place Among Passers

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, the bold "bald eagle" of the New York Giants who gained 565 yards in the air against Washington, is the first National Football League quarterback this season to pitch the pigskin more than a mile.

Sunday's performance in which the 36-year-old veteran signal-caller tied a NFL record with seven touchdown passes during a 40-34 victory over the Eastern Conference leading Redskins, pulled Tittle from fifth place to second place among the league's top passers.

Eddie LeBaron is No. 1 in the standings, based on a formula including completions, touchdown passes, interceptions, and average yards gained. The Dallas stand-out is the leader in average yards, gaining 9.81 yards every throw, according to league statistics released today.

Tittle is first with 1,844 yards gained, No. 1 in completions with 118 and the top TD tosser with 16, a mark that leaves him half way to the league record at the midpoint of the season. The record of 32 is held jointly by Johnny Unitas of Baltimore and Sonny Jurgensen of Philadelphia.

Pass Receiving

Bobby Mitchell, who caught 44 and 80-yard touchdowns passes from Norm Snead as the Redskins tried to stay in the game, remained in a tie for the pass receiving lead, moved into a tie for the scoring lead, and held on to first place in the kickoff return department.

Mitchell has caught 39 passes for a tie with Philadelphia's Tommy McDonald. Mitchell, however, has outdistanced the Eagles' flash 672 yards to 682. He now is tied with Dallas' Frank Clarke as the MADISON (AP) — Sophomore Rick Reichardt and junior Lou Holland were promoted to first team All-American honors Tuesday as Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn shook up his lineup in preparation for Saturday's Big Ten football game with Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Reichardt, a former All-State back from Stevens Point, and Holland, a one-time Union Grove flash, replaced sophs Ron Smith and Carl Silvestri on the basis of play in the Badgers' 14-7 defeat by Ohio State.

In addition, end Ron Leafblad was moved to the starting eleven, with veteran Ron Carlson dropping down to the second team.

Reserve end Elmarz Ezerins definitely is lost for the Michigan game and three substitutes are ailing with their status indefinite. Hobbled by leg injuries are center Joe Heckl and left guards Jon Hohnman and Ron Parr.

Packer 7-Game String Is Best Since 1931 Mark

No One Hurt, but Team Took Physical Beating, Lombardi Says

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Packers have won their first seven league games. . . they are leading the Western Division by two games—with seven contests to go!

That's the story today and it's a big one.

It would be nice to take time out and celebrate this 31-year achievement but the Bears are snorting and a-pawing just 200 miles away in preparation for Green Bay's annual visit to Wrigley Field. This is no time for frivolity. In fact, banish the thought!

With the slate still clean after engagements with the Vikings, Cardinals, Bears, Lions, Vikings, 49ers and Colts—in that order, Coach Vince Lombardi admitted today that:

"We're numb!"

Looks to Future

Reminded that it was quite an accomplishment to win seven in a row, Lombardi agreed that it was "an accomplishment" but quickly turned his thoughts to the future—the next seven.

"Each game will get a lot tougher and we'll be fighting for our lives. There are no easy ones," Vince said.

The coach felt that the Packers have been taking "bad physical beatings" and the 17-6 victory over the Colts in Baltimore was one of them. This is mostly because all other clubs are making extra-special efforts to beat the Packers. The Colts were furious in their attempt to whip the champs.

"We didn't get anybody hurt but it was a bad physical beating," Lombardi explained.

Asked about movies of the game, the coach said the pictures pointed up that "both teams played good on defense, and we only had the ball for 48 plays."

Without Touchdown

The Packers did what seemed like the impossible—holding John Unitas without a touchdown, in his home lot at that. The Colts managed 71 plays and 308 yards but they still scored only two field goals.

So the Packers downed the Bears 49-0 here recently? "The Bears look a lot different than they did when they played here," Lombardi warned today.

PS—The Packers' seven-game opening skein stands second only to the nine straight in 1931. The 1929 team opened with 10 straight while the '30 club had eight. The 1932 team didn't lose their first nine games but the second game was a scoreless tie with the Bears.

Others Mentioned

Others receiving mention were catcher Johnny Edwards of Cincinnati (8), catcher Tom Haller of San Francisco (5½), outfielder Matty Alou of San Francisco (5), second baseman Chuck Hiller of San Francisco (4), third baseman Bob Aspromonte of Houston (3) and pitcher Tony Cloninger of Milwaukee (2).

Davis, a 22-year-old southpaw swinger and fielder, wound up with a .285 batting average after hovering around .300 most of the season. This was a vast improvement over the .961 campaign when Davis hit only .254.

Willie the Wisp, displaying power as well as consistency at the plate, compiled 171 hits, hit 21 homers, collected 85 runs batted in and scored 103 runs. He finished in a four-way tie for the triples lead with 10 and was a distant second to teammate Maury Wills in the stolen base department with 32.

Clinch Second Place Oshkosh High Coasts to 48-13 Triumph Over Fond du Lac '11'

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh High School romped to a 21-0 first quarter lead and then coasted home to a 48-13 win over inept Fond du Lac Tuesday night in its season finale.

The Indians, who assured themselves of at least second place in the conference, scored at will and could have run up several more touchdowns had not Coach Harold Schumert with reserves most of the second half.

Larry Kopitz and Bill Paffenroth, a pair of seniors, bowed out with two touchdowns each and a combined total of 244 yards rushing. Kopitz, the conference's leading ground gainer, had 103 yards in 13 carries, while Paffenroth picked up 143 yards in only six attempts, including an 80-yard touchdown dash.

The only bright spot for the Cardinals was quarterback Tom Smith who completed 8 of 24 passes for 131 yards and rushed for 31 of Fond du Lac's 43 yards on the ground.

Smith's completion per centage should have been better. His receivers dropped four passes that were on target, including one toss that was marked touchdown.

Score on 3rd Play

Oshkosh scored on its third play from scrimmage and the rout was on. After taking over the ball on downs on his own 34, quarterback Bill Steinhaber picked up 17 yards. Paffenroth rammed for 47 and

Third Vike Regular On Disabled List

End Nelson Strom May Miss Home Finale Against Kohawks

The Lawrence College list of playing their final home game, sidelined football regulars has Green Bay's Gary Just, who booted two field goals last week, will once again direct the Vikings' unbalanced T-formation attack. Fred Cromheecke on the disabled list. Flom, 3-year, 2-way regular from Menasha and the league's third best scorer, will carry the brunt of the running attack.

The only other senior playing in last home game Saturday is Tom Schinabeck, 3-year regular and co-captain from Sheboygan. Wickland and Strom are the other seniors.

Japan's Champs Tie Tigers, 3-3, In Nine Innings

TOKYO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers played a 3-3 tie Tuesday with the Toei Flyers, Japan's pro baseball champions, before a crowd of 32,000 at the Korakuen Stadium.

The game was called at the end of nine innings by mutual agreement.

It was something of a moral victory for Toei's 18-year-old pitching ace, Yukio Ozaki, who retired six Tigers in a row, three of them on strikeouts. One of the strikeouts victims was Al Kaline, Detroit right fielder.

The Tigers beat the Daimai Orions 12-1 Saturday in the first game of their 17-game Oriental tour. They meet the Yomiuri Giants Wednesday.

Bob Shaw First To Sign Contract

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee right-hander Bob Shaw, who finished the 1962 season with a sore arm after getting off to a tremendous start, is the first player to sign a 1963 contract with the Braves.

The Braves made no mention of Shaw's arm trouble in announcing his signing Tuesday.

The 23-year-old Shaw posted a 15-9 record and had a 2.80 earned run average, second among the National League regular hurlers. He was chosen to the first game in the league, but then suffered arm trouble and failed to win a game after Aug. 17.

Chamberlain Hits 59 Against Frisco, Passes 10,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Will "The Stilt" Chamberlain dumped in 59 points to surpass the 10,000 point mark as San Francisco Warriors dropped the New York Knickerbockers 123-106 Tuesday night in a National Basketball Association game.

"That's an awful lot of shots in three years," said the 7-foot-1 former Kansas All-American who ran his NBA total to a fabulous 10,033.

Chamberlain, who said he didn't realize he was shooting for his 10,000 point, said his main goal is to bring an NBA title to San Francisco.

NU's Joe Szczecko Lineman of Week

Frank Patitucci, Ron Snidow Runners-Up in AP Writers Poll

BY TED MEIER

Joe Szczecko, Northwestern's 235-pound sophomore tackle, was named the college football lineman of the week by The Associated Press today.

It was Big Joe's sparkling play up front that played a major role in Northwestern's 35-6 victory over Notre Dame last week, a triumph that lifted the Wildcats into the No. 1 national ranking in this week's AP poll.

Szczecko's jarring tackle of Ed Rutkowski on the first running play of the game made the Notre Dame back fumble. Larry Benz recovered for Northwestern on the Irish 29—and eight plays later the Wildcats had their first touchdown.

Under Northwestern's lineman rating system, Big Joe was tops. He was given 79 per cent on his offensive assignments on running plays and 84 per cent on his blocking for passes.

High in Voting

High up in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters were Frank Patitucci, Stanford end; Ron Snidow, Oregon tackle and Billy Joe Armstrong, Ohio State center.

Patitucci, a 213-pound junior, started Stanford on the way to its upset 17-7 victory over UCLA by grabbing a fumble and running 82 yards for a touchdown. His smashing in tactics made him a standout on defense.

Snidow, a 235-pounder, made 11 tackles, eight of them unassisted as Oregon tied Washington 21-21. In addition, his punting helped keep the Huskies backed up in their own territory. Two of his kicks went out of bounds inside the 5.

As for Armstrong, Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach, showed superlatives on his 189-pound, 5-foot-11 senior snapperbacker after the Buckeyes' 14-7 victory over Wisconsin.

"Billy Joe is the best all-around player on our squad," Hayes said. "He's the best I've had here in 12 years. He has been tops for four years in grades, attitude, behavior and playing ability."

Luff's punt on the Oshkosh 5 and recovered the ball in the end zone.

The Indians came right back on the following kickoff as end Jerry Kirkpatrick took the short kick on his 31, circled back to the 20, shook off several tacklers and then went down the west sideline for the score.

It was more of the same in the second half as Paffenroth went 80 yards on the first play of the half to put Oshkosh's lead to 42-6.

Sophomore end Pat Schrage got into the act late in the third period by blocking Dean Bablow's punt and then running the ball 30 yards for the final Oshkosh score.

Fond du Lac scored a consolation touchdown in the final period with Bob St. Lawrence going over from the 1. The TD was set up by a 54-yard pass, Smith to St. Lawrence, that put the ball on the Oshkosh 20.

Spartans Supposed to Win Wisconsin Picked to Top Michigan, 19-7

BY JERRY LISKA Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The frost may be on the pumpkin, but fortunately it still hasn't fogged the Midwest grid seer's crystal ball.

We galloped through our third successive perfect weekend of picking last Saturday for a season mark of 28-7 (800).

This round appears duck soup, but the Big Ten couldn't run scald anybody on any given Saturday, as any given coach is wont to say.

Michigan State 14, Minnesota 7—Michigan State, still a strong Big Ten contender, will be charged up by memories of 1961. The Spartans, top-ranked then after five straight victories, were spilled 13-0 at Minnesota. Long after the game, Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty brooded, chin in hand, in MSU's dressing room. This should be a scorching showdown between the Spartan roman candle attack and Minnesota's barbed-wire defense which has blanketed Missouri, Navy, Illinois and Michigan.

Wisconsin 19, Michigan 7—It's the old Badger game to score and the Wolverines haven't done that in three starts—against Michigan State, Purdue and Minnesota.

Purdue 20, Illinois 13—It could be that Purdue, fresh from thumping Michigan and Iowa, may have forgotten about Miami of Ohio's Redskins. The Fighting Illini also would dearly prize Purdue's scalp and, with 15 straight losses, are somewhat irked.

Notre Dame 19, Navy 12—After four successive Big Ten beltings the Irish aren't about to take any backwash from a Navy team close to Irish size.

Cepeda Has 20-20 Vision In Right Eye Heavy Hitter Rumored to be On Trading Block

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Orlando Cepeda has 20-20 vision in his right eye despite a tiny cataract, the San Francisco Giants announced Tuesday after the slug-ging first baseman underwent an extensive eye examination.

Dr. George Campion told the Giants that Cepeda "has a congenital opacity of the crystalline lens a millimeter in diameter in his right eye which has been there since birth and will never grow or interfere with his vision."

Cepeda underwent the examination after flunking a driver's license eye test last week and learning from a preliminary exam that he might have a serious cataract over the eye.

Campion said the congenital opacity "could technically be termed a cataract. However in this case it is just a tiny dot which doesn't amount to anything at all." He said Cepeda's 20-20 vision was normal, and that he had better-than-normal 20-15 vision in his left eye.

Because of his late-season slump—and although he did hit .306—Cepeda had been rumored to be the Giants' main bait in winter dealings for an established starting pitcher.

Frequently named in possible deals were Philadelphia's Art Mahaffey or Boston's Bill Monbouquette. It was thought the Red Sox might be especially interested in the right-handed hitting Cepeda because of the short left field fence at Fenway Park and Boston's need for a power hitter.

set up Gary Gunderson's plunge for the TD.

The most exciting play occurred late in the third period. The Hawk's leading All-State candidate, Bleier, slipped around right end, turned on the steam, and sped 80 yards to his 21st touchdown of the season. Wiesner's kick made the score, 40-6.

The Squires recovered a Hawk fumble on their own 49 and went 51 yards in seven plays for the final touchdown of the game. A Nicks to Dennis Danen pass for the extra point accounted for the final score of 40-13.

Intercept Pass

Pennings had another drive underway late in the game. A fumble recovery on the Xavier 43 started the drive but an interception stopped it cold on the Xavier 1-yard stripe. The Hawks had punched the ball out to the 33 when the game ended.

It was the 22nd successive victory for Xavier. It was the ninth straight in 1962 and in all nine games the team has gained 300 or more yards on the ground. Against the Pennings defense, the Hawks had 328.

Enough for the offense, the first defensive unit can sum up the season with one boast. It remained unscathed upon all season. Both of the Pennings touchdowns came against reserves. Coach Clark refuses to run his first unit into the game when the opposition gets close to the end zone.

Eagles Drop Slumping End John Baker

May be Claimed For $100 Waiver Price by Steelers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The slumping Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League have fired 272-pound defensive end John Baker, charging him with not giving maximum effort.

The Eagles placed Baker on waivers Tuesday and speculation arose that the Pittsburgh Steelers might claim him. If another NFL club does not claim him for the $100 waiver price, he will be free agent.

"If we are going to lose, we're certainly not going to lose with anybody on the squad who's not giving his best effort," said Nick Skorich, the Eagles' coach.

"And we're not going to keep anybody else who is guilty of a lack of effort."

Skorich said his decision to drop Baker was based on his performances "over the past few games."

Baker played so poorly in last Sunday's 31-21 loss to Minnesota, said Skorich, that the coach felt the Eagles were playing with 10 men. It was the Eagles' sixth loss against only one victory.

"He (Baker) had many opportunities when he could have hit the quarterback, but he didn't," said Skorich. He referred to Fran Tarkenton who beat the Eagles with his running on rollouts and passing.

Skorich, who is scanning the waiver lists for a replacement for Baker, meanwhile has Gene Gossage practicing at Baker's left end position.

From Los Angeles — The Eagles acquired Baker from the Los Angeles Rams last year in a trade for linebacker Bob Pelletieri who later was traded to Washington.

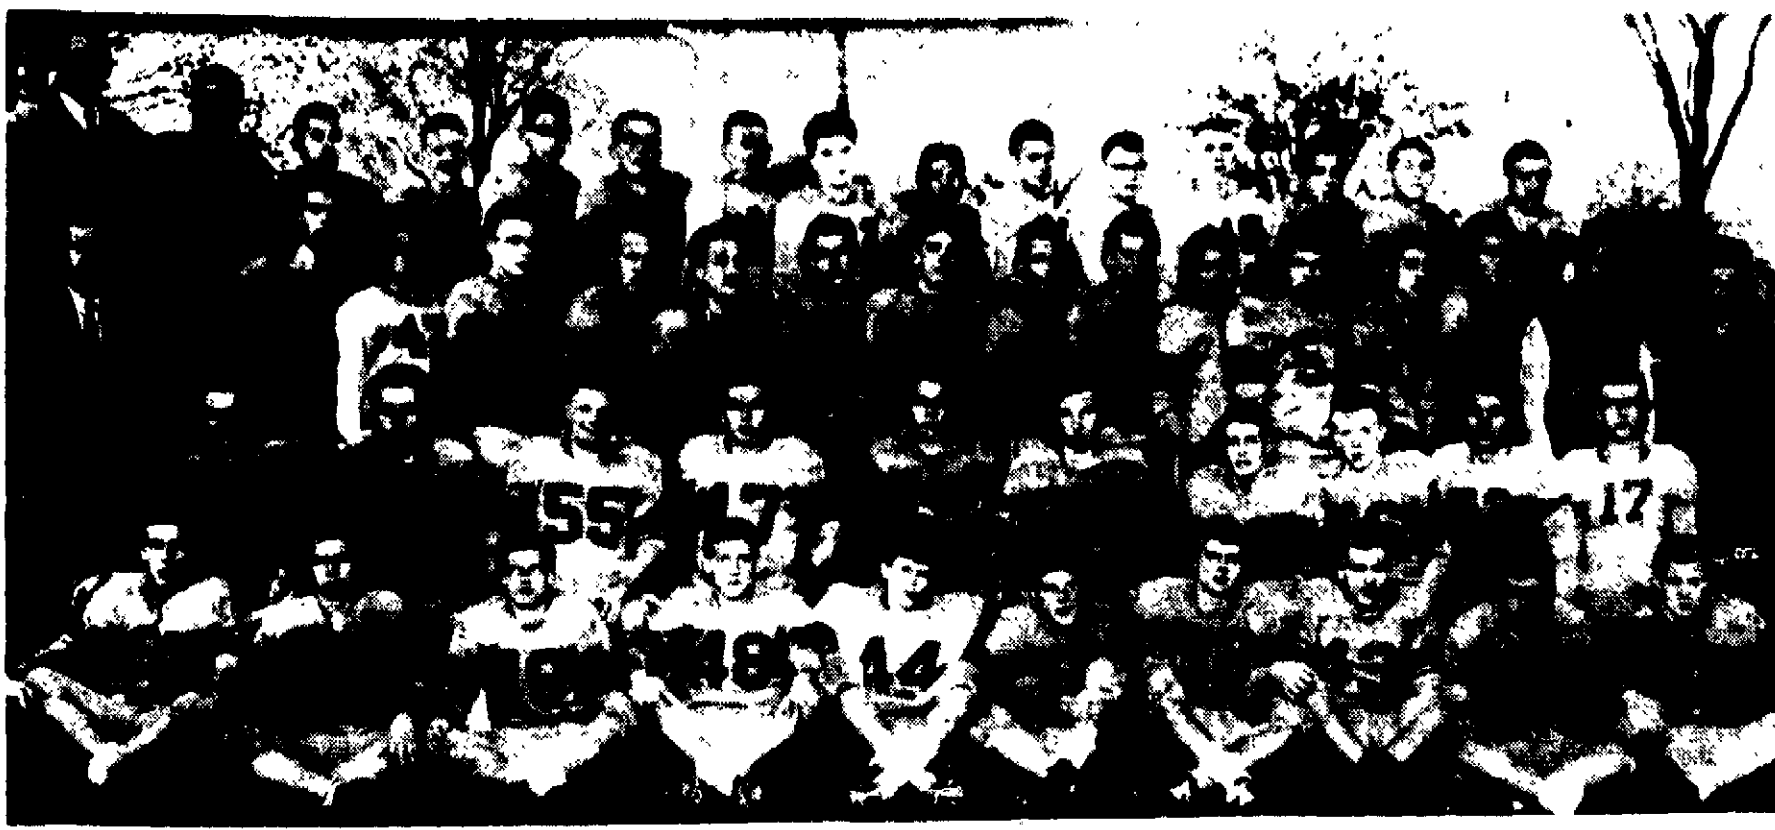

Baker, a graduate of North Carolina College who was a starter three of his four years with the Rams, was expected to plug the hole left by the departure of Leo Sugar after the 1961 season.

"He showed signs of doing the job for us in training camp and in the early games, then he got progressively worse," said Skorich.

Baker was not available for comment. When a newsman phoned Baker's hotel and asked for him, his roommate, halfback Tim Brown, said he was en route to Pittsburgh to join Daddy Lipscomb, the Steelers' big tackle.

Celtics' Coach Blows Fuse, Charges Into St. Louis Fans

ST. LOUIS (AP)—This is a new season but an old story was repeated Tuesday night when Boston Celtic Coach Red Auerbach, threatened and taunted by St. Louis Hawk fans, blew a fuse and charged into the crowd.

The fiery Auerbach, who often before has warred with the St. Louis partisans, was leaving the floor after being automatically ejected following his second technical foul in the 98-97 St. Louis victory.

Cries of "you lousy bum," profanity and threats followed Red along the court and, unable to stand it any longer, he surged into the crowd.

He had a point. Pettit made more free throws than the entire Boston team—18 to 15.

The crowd around Auerbach broke up quickly when the bulky Boston players rushed up and police and ushers then restored complete order.

In the other NBA game scheduled Tuesday, San Francisco came from behind a 88-85 score in the last quarter to beat New York 125-106 at the University of San Francisco gym.

SHERWOOD — Vanderloop's position in the AAA Keglers League improved and Michael's Bowl at Michael's each won a pair of games while SS Auto Service dropped a pair.

Hornung Back On Packer Drill Field

GREEN BAY (AP)—Green Bay Packer halfback Paul Hornung, the National Football League scoring champion the last three years who has been sidelined with a knee injury for two weeks, returned to the practice field Tuesday.

The workout was the first for Hornung since he was hurt in the game with the Minnesota Vikings.

"We're hopeful he can play against the Bears," said Coach Vince Lombardi, referring to next Sunday's game in Chicago. "but we'll know a lot better Thursday."

Lombardi said Hornung wore cleats during his drill, and added, "he ran pretty well and we're encouraged."

Looking ahead to the possibility that Hornung will play against the Bears, Lombardi said, "If he can kick, he can also play halfback. Or if he can play halfback, he can kick."

The defending champion Packers will be seeking their eighth victory in as many games when they tangle with the Bears, a Green Bay victim earlier in the season.

No individual honor scores were recorded and the Michael's team had a 915 game total.

Packers Hold NFL Lead on Defense

Giants Climb From Ninth to Second in Total Yards Gained

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, displaying a powerful offensive punch last Sunday, zoomed from ninth to a second-place tie this week in total yardage gained.

The Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles are only 119 yards behind the Dallas Cowboys, the National Football League's offense leaders.

Statistics released by the league today showed that the Giants amassed 602 yards passing and rushing in their 49-34 victory over the Washington Redskins.

This output boosted their total offense to 2,492 yards, same as the Eagles.

Dallas, meanwhile, has gained 2,611 yards on the ground and in the air. The Green Bay Packers are the leading ground gainers with 1,300 yards rushing.

The Eagles are tops in the air with 1,951 yards gained passing.

Are Stingiest — Defensively, the Packers are the stingiest. They have allowed the opposition just 1,480 yards in their 17-6 triumph over the Baltimore Colts last Sunday, they stopped the Colts eight times in Green Bay territory.

The Packers have the most effective pass defense, having yielded 779 yards via the air. Green Bay, however, relinquished its lead in rushing defense as Detroit and Dallas both moved ahead of the Packers this week. Detroit has given up 619 yards on the ground, Dallas 698 and Green Bay 701.

Frosh Leaves Grid Platoon to Become Harrier, Gets Lost

ARCATA, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Blueford, a freshman from Oakland, Calif., decided to give up football and joined the cross country squad at Humboldt State College.

He went out for a run Tuesday — and got lost.

Blueford ended up in Arcata's residential area about 11 blocks from the campus.

The youngster wasn't nonplussed, however. He called a cab.

Four bits (fifty cents) worth later he was back on campus, re-oriented, if somewhat heckled.

major player development fund and approximately $850,000 a year.

Under the new arrangement, the major league club would pay the salaries of the manager and the coaches and would provide players and reimburse the minor league team for some or all of the player salaries.

The majors also would pay spring training and certain traveling expenses.

In return, the majors would have the right to select minor league player contracts Dec. 15.

Players owned outright by the minor league club could be bought by the major league team for a fee between $5,000 and $20,000 — before the player could be offered to any other club.

While the majors were working on a program they hoped would instill new life into the minor league operation, former Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler criticized baseball because "the major leagues control the minors and they've almost run the minors out of business."

Chandler, commissioner from 1945-1961 who was succeeded by Ford Frick, told the Daytona Beach, Fla., News-Journal.

"Commissioner Ford Frick has presided over the liquidation of the minor leagues. They've laid it on television and radio but that's not the reason. It's the selfishness and greed of the majors. I thought baseball was a sport when I became commissioner. I thought the people owned the national pastime. I found I was mistaken. The semi-bandits own it."

Chandler cited figures he said showed the minors reached an all-time peak while he was commissioner. In 1949 there were 488 clubs and 59 leagues and total attendance was 41,982,219. Last year there were 147 minor league clubs and 22 leagues with attendance at 10,974,084.

Packers Hold NFL Lead on Defense

Giants Climb From Ninth to Second in Total Yards Gained

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, displaying a powerful offensive punch last Sunday, zoomed from ninth to a second-place tie this week in total yardage gained.

The Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles are only 119 yards behind the Dallas Cowboys, the National Football League's offense leaders.

Statistics released by the league today showed that the Giants amassed 602 yards passing and rushing in their 49-34 victory over the Washington Redskins.

This output boosted their total offense to 2,492 yards, same as the Eagles.

Dallas, meanwhile, has gained 2,611 yards on the ground and in the air. The Green Bay Packers are the leading ground gainers with 1,300 yards rushing.

The Eagles are tops in the air with 1,951 yards gained passing.

Are Stingiest — Defensively, the Packers are the stingiest. They have allowed the opposition just 1,480 yards in their 17-6 triumph over the Baltimore Colts last Sunday, they stopped the Colts eight times in Green Bay territory.

The Packers have the most effective pass defense, having yielded 779 yards via the air. Green Bay, however, relinquished its lead in rushing defense as Detroit and Dallas both moved ahead of the Packers this week. Detroit has given up 619 yards on the ground, Dallas 698 and Green Bay 701.
